Bangalore
23rd June 1899.

My dear Col: Robertson,

I beg to forward herewith a statement of the expenditure incurred by the Palace on the marriage of the 1st and 2d Princesses amounting to Rs 11,64,106. In this amount is however included a sum of Rs 43,988 spent upon Upanayana of His Highness the Maharaja, which was celebrated on the same dates as the marriage of the 2d Princess.

The total marriage expenditure of Rs 11,64,106 has been met in part from the annual Civil List for 1895-96 and 1896-97 and in part by an overdraft upon the State Treasury to the extent of Rs 4,42,234-6-10 which is now pending adjustment.

Since 1897-98, the Civil List has been reduced from 14 to 12 lacs per annum owing to the separate investment of two lacs as reported in my D.O. letter No 1361 dated 10th November 1897. Two such investments have been made, one for 1897-98 and the other for the current year 1898-99. The total of these two investments with interest due now amounts to Rs 4,07,400. Similar investments will of course continue to be made during the remaining years of the minority.

I beg to add that during 1897-98 and 1898-99, the Palace expenditure has been

~~has been~~ maintained within normal limits and that this has enabled the Palace to make separate investments of 2 lacs in each of those years, thus ~~satisfactory~~ leaving a satisfactory state of things ~~which, I trust,~~ to be maintained, continue during the remaining years of the minority.

The two marriages (1895-96 and 1896-97) naturally involved charges of quite an exceptional nature, such as the annual Civil List was not capable of meeting in full. Hence the overdraft of 4,42,234-6-10 already referred to.

Under such circumstances I beg to propose that a state grant of two lacs for each marriage be made to the Palace. Reference to such a grant was made in the correspondence

1. . . Para 3 & 4 of my Memo of 25th June 1890.

2. . . . " 2 of First Asst Resdt's letter No. 2933/326-93 of 28th August 1893.

3. . . . " 2 of First Asst Resdt's D.O. letter of 16th Feby 1895. and

4. . . . " 8 of my Memo of 6th March 1895 forwarded to the Resdt with my D.O. of the same date.

The State grant of four lacs for the two marriages as above proposed is only about a third of the total expenditure actually incurred. Such a grant from the State would be quite in accordance with the popular sentiment in the matter. And without the help of such a grant, the Palace cannot be expected to repay the debit of Rs 4,42,234-6-10, as the normal Palace expenditure is very nearly 12 lacs per annum.

Yours Sincerely
Sd/ K. Sheshadri

GOVERNMENT OF MYSORE

Bangalore
6th July 1899.

My dear Mr Crawford,

In continuation of my D.O. to Col: Robertson dated 23d June 1899, I beg to be permitted to add the following observations in further explanation of my proposal for the grant of 4 lacs from the State to the Civil List, on account of the ~~expenditure in the~~ marriages of the 1st and 2d Princesses.

The Government of India in August 1893 expressed the opinion that the Civil List should bear the whole of the expenditure on account of marriages (Vide 1st Assn Resident's letter dated 28th August, 1893) Since then however the condition of things has very materially altered. The sudden and premature demise in Dec.r/94 of H. H. Sivama-rajendra Wadayar upset all previous calculations. On the one hand, the ordinary Palace expenditure has to be maintained without much appreciable reduction, while on the other, a large extraordinary expenditure (on account of ~~the obsequies~~ of the late Maharaja, the Upanayana of the minor Maharaja and the marriage of the Princesses) has had to be incurred in the first two years of the minority. During these two years (1895-96 and 1896-97) the Civil list was allowed to remain at 14 lacs per annum as before. During the next two years 1897-98 and 1898-99 the Civil List has been reduced to 12 lacs per annum, owing to the separate investment of two lacs as already approved by the Government of India (Vide 1st Asstt. Resident's letter Camp No 34 dt 23rd January) the extraordinary expenditure in question amounting to over 11½ lacs as per statement ~~submitted with my D.O. of 23rd June 1898~~ was so large as to render it impossible to meet it wholly from the Annual Civil List Grants of the years (1895-96 & 1896-97) from other sources. Hence the need for help from ~~the savings of other years~~. Her Highness the Maharani 14 lacs.

Regent wisely abstained from touching the accu-mulations of previous years' Civil List savings, left by His Highness
the late Maharaja amounting to about 13 lacs, all invested in Govt Paper; and as regards the Civil List savings of subsequent years, they are fully absorbed by the separate investment of 2 lacs per annum which, as stated above, is being made with effect
from 1897-98.

Under such circum-stances the proposed grant of 4 lacs* from the State Treasury for the purpose way of meeting the large deficit caused by the expenditure on the
the two marriages. Such a grant would question and to the same extent of enabling Her Highness the Maharani

* At the rate of 2 lacs for each marriage.

GOVERNMENT OF MYSORE

Regent to keep in trust
(as she is doing) the 13 lacs investment left by the late Maharaja and (as well as to Continue (to Huthyhmen from this Date)
~~to continue~~ the present arrangement of separate investment of 2 lacs per annum. Regarded from the point of popular sentiment a good deal can, ~~doubtless~~, be said in favor of the State contributing a share of the expenditure on the marriage of the Princesses
Also all considerations ~~Incidental~~, point to the desirability of making ~~immediately~~ a State grant of 4 lacs in aid of the Civil fest, ~~as pro-~~ ~~posed by me~~. on occasion of the two Marriages.

Memorandum

The Palace accts are quite distinct from the State accts. - The former are managed by the Palace Controller who, under H H's direction, incurs & accts for the whole of the Palace Expenditure. The State accts are managed by the Controller of the Mysore Govt.

3 - The whole of the Expenditure upon the marriages of the Princess & the Upanayanam of the Maharaja - (Amts, as far as has been passed into the regular Palace accts up to 17 June 1899, is Rs. 11,64,106.6.3) was incurred in 1895-96 and 1896-97, but the whole of it could not be passed into the Palace accts for those years, as a part stood charged in an advance account, pending audit and another part consisted of payments made in the subsequent years on account of purchases made for the marriages.

4. Under such circs the Expenditure in question stands charged in the Palace Expenditure accounts as shown in the following Statement -

5 - Until the whole of the Expenditure in question had been dealt with, it was impossible to ascertain

17

~~What~~ the net deficit aft the Palace - And pending this process no mention was made of the ~~the~~ H.R.H. anticipated deficit in ~~His~~ Her letter of 10 Nov 1897 which reported the arrangement for the separate investment of 2 ℔ Cars ~~from~~ per annum out of the Annual Civil List with Effect from 1897-98 - Her Highness directed this arrangement at Col. Robertson's private advice at an interview, and ~~it was very glad~~ ~~to the advantage~~ to introduce it, as an effective ~~inducement~~ aid to ~~Economy~~ Economy in the Palace Expenditure -

~~The position was simply as follows~~:-

b The Special Expenditure on acct of Marriages &c amounted to the large Sum of nearly 12 Cars; A large number of distinguished Guests had to be rec'd & entertained & the usual Khillats to them, ~~&c &c &c~~ had to be given & Gentlemen & ladies account for a material part of the total expenditure - Another large Item is "Presents to Bride grooms, including Money, Jewels, Clothes & House &c - which had to be given to them, owing to the well known Condition of the Royal Community of Mysore -

x ~~from 22 of~~ ~~his Letter of 97~~ ~~25 June 1890~~ - ~~Known~~ ~~expenditure~~ ~~Conditions~~ ~~impressions~~

The ~~above~~ position is simply this. The large Expenditure has been incurred, leaving as actually ~~the~~ Palace, a net deficit of ~~4 4 07,500~~ 42,234-6-10 - ~~Major~~ ~~Prideaux~~

7. ; that the State ~~Shd~~ give the Palace a Special grant of 2 lacs for each marriage. If this is done the remaining 42,234.6.10 can probably be met from ~~Current~~ small amount Savings of the reduced Civil list of 12 lacs per annum.

8. In the absence of a Special state grant there are only two ways in which the deficit can be ~~met~~ met, namely 1st from the accumn left by the late Maharajah, to which in his opinion is most inexpedient, because it was intended for the benefit of his youngest Son & three daughters — and 2° from the 1st Civil list of 1897-98 & subsequent years, which it ~~would have~~ to arrange ~~Hon is undesirable~~ is not possible with the Separate annual ~~undertaken~~ investment of 2 lacs undertaken for 1897-98, and I consider that any curtailment of this investment is most undesirable having regard to its intended use at the end of the Minority —

9. On the other hand a Special State grant such as that proposed is the best method. In other States the entire expenditure ~~for~~ for marriages &c. is met from the State. This is the general expectation also in this State — ~~but this~~ But what I recommend is only the very moderate State grant of 2 lacs for Each Marriage. ~~Incorporated~~ This opinion in para 34 of my Memo of 25th Jan 1890 — Nine years subsequent experience

Only ~~Conference~~ + induces me to believe even more firmly in the justice fairness - way necessity - of a ~~State grant from~~ Public State Grant.

16. I have given the subject my best consideration ~~&~~ from every point of view and I ~~am~~ believe that ~~grant~~ the special grant of 4 lacs is really required ——

THE RESIDENT MYSORE

Mysore.
~~BANGALORE.~~
23rd July 1893.

My dear Dewan,

Please refer to your letter of the 6th instant about your proposal for the grant of four lacs from the Mysore State to the Civil List on account of the marriages of the eldest and second daughters of the late Maharaja.

As you observe, the Government of India in August 1893 expressed the opinion that the Civil List should bear the whole of the expenditure on account of marriages

This opinion was expressed at the same time as approval was conveyed to your proposals for allowing State pensions to the children of the late Maharaja. The rate of pension for each daughter was Rs 80,000 a year. The pensions of the elder daughter was to commence in 1895, and of the second daughter in 1897; and I see that provision for the two pensions was made accordingly in the State budgets.

But I believe I am right in thinking that both daughters have hitherto lived for the most part with Her Highness the Maharani-Regent; and of the 1st and 2d Princesses.

I shall feel much obliged if you will kindly obtain the consent of H.E. the Viceroy to the proposed grant -

Yours Very Sincerely,

Sd K. Sheshadri Esqr.

My dear Mr Crawford,

In lieu of previous D.O. correspondence, I beg to forward herewith a Confidential Memorandum, describing in detail my proposal for State grants to the Palace, for the marriages

* Presents made of articles from stock.

2. The total marriage expenditure of Rs. 10,69,000, has been met in part from the Civil List † for 1895-96 and 1896-97 and in part by an over-draft upon the State Treasury amounting to Rs. 4,42,234-6-10. This amount is shown in the State Account as a recoverable advance against the Palace.

† Namely 14 lakhs per annum

3. I propose that a grant of four lakhs (at the rate of two lakhs for each marriage) should now be made from the State Treasury to the Palace, and that by means of this grant and the small savings of the annual Civil List in this and the following year, the whole of the advance in question (Rs. 4,42,234-6-10) should be duly adjusted.

4. I did not bring this matter forward earlier, under the following circumstances :—

Though the expenditure in question was actually incurred in 1895-96 and 1896-97, yet the whole of it could not be passed into the Palace accounts for those years, as a part stood charged to an "Advance" account pending audit and another part consisted of payments made in subsequent years on account of purchases made at the time of the marriages. The expenditure has actually been charged to the Palace accounts as follows :—

No.	Years.	Amount.
		Rs. a. p.
1	1895-96	3,15,647 8 0
2	1896-97	5,15,101 14 9
3	1897-98	3,14,464 6 6
4	1898-99	18,892 9 0
	Total ...	11,64,106 6 3
	Deduct value of cloths purchased but remaining in stock ...	95,106 0 0
	Balance ...	10,69,000 6 3

Until the whole of the expenditure in question had thus been dealt with, it was impossible to ascertain the net deficit against the Palace. And pending this process no mention was made of the anticipated deficit in my letter to the Resident, dated 10th November 1897, which reported the arrangement for the separate investment of two lakhs per annum out of the annual Civil List with effect from 1897-98. Her Highness directed this arrangement at Colonel Robertson's private advice at an interview, and I was very glad to be able to introduce it as an effective aid to greater economy in the Palace expenditure.

5. I have gone carefully into the Palace accounts and I am of opinion that the proposed grant of four lakhs is really necessary. The large expenditure of nearly 11 lakhs on the two marriages was unavoidable. A number of guests had to be received and entertained and the usual Khillats to them and to Ursu gentlemen and ladies account for a material part of the total expenditure. Another large item is "Presents to Bridegroom" which were unavoidable under the circumstances. *Vide statement enclosed. ~~including money, jewels, cloths, houses, &c., which had to be given to them owing to~~ the well-known impecunious †condition of the Ursu community of Mysore. Thus a large expenditure has actually been incurred leaving against the Palace a net deficit of Rs. 4,42,234-6-10 which

These consist of the items noted below and in the aggregate form the Varadakshines usual on such occasions: —

	On 2nd Princess' marriage	On 1st Princess' marriage
Jewels —	95160 - - -	63684 - 0 - 6
Cloths —	36730 - 7 - 9	73940 - 2 - 9
Cash —	151712 - 2 - 6	- - -
Houses —	57807 - 10 - 2	14050 - 0 - 0
Total	3,41,410 - 4 - 5	1,51,674 - 3 - 3

it has been found impossible to meet from the annual Civil List.

6. In the absence of such a special State Grant for four lakhs as that now proposed, there can only be two ways in which the deficit can be met:

1stly from the accumulation left by the late Maharaja to do which, it is most inexpedient because it was intended for the benefit of his younger son and three daughters;

And 2ndly from the Civil List of 1897-98 and subsequent years which it is not possible to arrange with the separate annual investment of two lakhs undertaken from 1897-98 and I consider that any curtailment of this investment is most undesirable, having regard to its intended use at the end of the Minority.

7. On the other hand the special State Grant now proposed is the best method. In other States, the entire expenditure for marriages, &c., is met from the State. This is the general expectation in this State also. But what is now proposed is only the very moderate State Grant of about one-third of the total expenditure. Such a State Grant would be quite in accordance with the popular sentiment in the matter. This opinion I had expressed in para 34 of my Memo, dated 25th June 1890. Nine years' subsequent experience only induces me to believe even more firmly in the fairness—nay, the necessity under present circumstances—of such a State Grant. In now reiterating this opinion I am not losing sight of the fact that the Government of India in August 1893 had declared that the Civil List should bear the whole of the expenditure on account of marriages (vide First Assistant Resident's letter, dated 28th August 1893). Since then, however, the condition of things has very materially altered. The sudden and premature demise of the late Maharaja in December 1894 upset all previous calculations. On the one hand the ordinary Palace expenditure has now to be maintained without much appreciable reduction, while on the other, a large extraordinary expenditure (on account of the obsequies of the late Maharaja, the Upanayana of the minor Maharaja and the marriage of the Princesses) had all to be incurred in the first two years of the Minority. During these two years (1895-96 and 1896-97) the Civil List was allowed to remain at 14 lakhs per annum as before. During the next two years 1897-98 and 1898-99, the Civil List has been reduced to 12 lakhs per annum by the separate investment of 2 lakhs already referred to, which investment will continue to be made during the remaining years of the Minority.

8. I have given the whole subject my best consideration from every point of view and I believe that the special grant of four lakhs is really required and quite legitimate in every way.

9. In this connection I may explain how the State Pensions of Rs. 80,000 per annum granted to each Princess is being dealt with. The pension for Princess Jayalakshmammanni has been paid from March 1895 and that for Princess Krishnajammanni from June 1897. These pensions are being separately invested as the private property of the Princesses. The investments are in Government of India Securities as shown in the margin.* They are ~~separately maintained by the State~~ ~~as~~ the private property of the Princesses and ~~they~~ are ~~accordingly~~ not chargeable with any part of the expenditure on their marriages. It is a well recognized custom in every community, and it is particularly so under Hindu usuage, that the duty of providing funds for the marriage of a daughter devolves entirely upon ~~the~~ her parents.

Office Note.

In the statement furnished to the Resident with the Dewan's D.O. of the 23rd June 1899, the expenditure incurred on account of the marriage of the Princesses and the Upanayanam of His Highness the Maharaja, was shown as Rs: 11,64,106. 6. 3 as per particulars furnished by the Palace Controller -

2. In a memo subsequently furnished to the Resident by the Dewan, dated 12th July 1899, reference was made therein to the years in which the said expenditure had been debited in the Palace accounts - A total of the figures contained in the Palace Controller's annual statement of expenditure*, having shewn a difference between the figures originally furnished and that now obtained, such difference amounting to Rs: 30068. 12. 10, was left out of calculation pending investigation —

The expenditure incurred on account of the Upanayanam had as a matter of fact been included in the figures under the column "Marriage of the Princesses" — The small difference observed between the totals of the annual expenditure was due to a sum of Rs 14,050 (Rs 10,000 being advance for marriage expenses and Rs 4050 purchase of a house by Mr Kantharaj Urs) which was since written off, not having been included in the statement of annual expenditure — The sum of Rs 14,050 added to the totals of the Controller's figures of annual expenditure for the year 1898.99, gives an aggregate total of Rs 1164236. 6. 7 or Rs 130. 0. 4 in excess of the amount shown in the statement first furnished to the Resident — This small difference of Rs 130. 0. 4 has long been under investigation and no satisfactory solution has yet been arrived

Extract from D.O. letter dated, Ootacamund, 17th May 1900, from the Resident in Mysore, to the Dewan of Mysore.

Private. P.S.

I am much afraid from what I hear privately that my recommendation regarding the 4 lacs excess Marriage Expenditure for the 2 Princesses are not going to be accepted. A precious principle has been discovered wrapt up in the case and no argument has had any avail. The fact is that when once a reference has taken a wrong turn, it is almo herculean task to bring it back on to the desired lines.

celebration were intended to be included in the term "Sperd portion" or "dower" which meant quite a different thing unconnected with ordinary marriage expenses. I therefore quite agree in the views you have expressed in this matter, and I am sure another representation to the Govt of India, this time Colt Robertson, with his strong support, will induce the Govt of India to reconsider the matter.

I return with thanks your Memo of 1878, which contains a full & interesting account of the marriage of the late Highness. Our experience of the past 2 marriages shows that the number of guests removed all ambiguity and made it plain that what the Govt of Indr wanted His Highness the Maharaja to understand was that, in the opinion of His Excellency the Viceroy & Genl in Council, in addition to the pensions sanctioned, the Princes will not be furnished with a dower, portion or fortune. It is in this view nothing was said in my reply, in regard to this portion of the Govt of India's letter. There was nothing in the context of para 2 of Asst Resident's letter, dated 28th August 1893, which led me to suppose that Expenses of marriage

My dear Sir Sheshadri Iyer,

The Expression made use of by the Govt of India in their communication of August 1893 is

"Special pensions or doneries"

In the absence of any particular allusion to the "maneke sopenses," both His Highness the late Maha Raja and myself, as Dewan, construed the words according to their ordinary meaning and considered there was nothing to controvert. The use of the word "or" between "pensions" and doneries," I beg respectfully to submit,

GOVERNMENT OF MYSORE

21st June 1900.

My dear Narasimmiengar,

Please see the concluding para on page 58 of the accompanying compilation. The table given there, I made from the statement you had sent me through Ramachendra Rao. I should like to have the full details for each item in the table, with the view of adopting some plan of similar treatment to each son-in-law. We should be able to decide how much is expenditure proper for each marriage and how much is gift and help to the son-in-law. My classification in the table in question is capable of improvement perhaps. Please set some intelligent man to collect and classify the details.

I want to go away to Bangalore as early as possible and then into Districts, to see if a little outing will make me feel stronger and more cheerful than I have been feeling for some days. But I must first settle all matters here.

Yours very Sincerely,

Sd/. K. SHESHADRI IYER.

Desp? 16?

My dear Col. Robertson

In my D.O. letter dated 10th November 1897 I informed you that two lacs per annum out of the annual Civil List of 14 lacs would be separately invested in that and succeeding years. This investment has accordingly been made for 1897-98, 1898-99 and 1899-1900. Her Highness finds it impossible to make the investment for the current year 1900-1901, because of the 3rd Princess' marriage celebrated in June last. For the purpose of this marriage Her Highness had to purchase Jewels of the aggregate value of Rs. 2,06,313, (those worth Rs. 61,429 being presented to the Bridegroom, and the 3rd Princess being provided with Jewels and sundry articles of the total value of 1,44,884)

As it is now decided that no Special State Grant is to be made for the marriage of the Princess, there is no means of meeting the above mentioned charge except by abstaining from making the separate investment of two lacs for the current year. Under para 2 of your Office letter No. 2933/326-93 dated 28th August 1893 "special portions or Dowries" on occasions of marriages are to be regarded as forming "a legitimate charge on the Maharaja's Civil List". The proposal now made is in accordance with this principle. The Civil List this year cannot both pay for the Jewels bought for the 3rd Princess' marriage (Rupees 2,06,313) and at the same time make a separate investment of 2 lacs. Her Highness accordingly proposes to dispense with the separate investment of two lacs for this year. It will of course be made for the next year, 1901-1902, which will be the last year of the minority.

Yours sincerely,

Sd. K. Sheshadri Iyer

Department

No. 1309 913-8-00 Office of the Comptroller of Mysore, Bangalore, 13/28 August 1900

From

E. R. Subrayer, Esq.,
Comptroller of Mysore

To

The Palace Controller
in Mysore.

Sir,

I have the honour to state that pending final settlement of the question in re Palace Accounts and as I am directed to carry out Mr. Beddulph's instructions as much as possible, I propose to follow generally the rules prescribed in this Office Manual for audit of these accounts, from July Current, under which the Palace Receipts and Payments in-Government Treasuries will be Classified by this Office and posted in the Classified abstract while those of your Treasury will be Classified by you and posted in the Copy of the Classified abstract also kept in your Office.

2nd The transactions of the Sultan and Governor to His Highness will also be classified by this Office and entered in the Classified Abstract in the Columns provided for the purpose.

3. As your monthly Accounts are liable to be required before the 20th of the month following, while that of my Office can be ready on or about the 20th of the 2nd month following there will be unnecessarily much delay in preparing the monthly Consolidated Account if we wait till we exchange our Accounts.

4. I therefore propose that you will submit monthly to this Office before the 20th of the month following that to which the transactions relate an extract from your Classified Abstract in the appended form accompanied by the usual bills and Vouchers. As soon as the Accounts of this Office are closed the 2nd & 3rd Columns in the extract will be filled up by this Office, the combined figures posted in the Total Columns and the opening and Closing Abstracts Completed. The Account thus Completed will be returned to you for note in the Classified abstract kept in your Office.

5 The Example form of the Classified Abstract required to be maintained both in this and in your Office which may be found to correspond with the one prescribed by Mr Biddulph is here with enclosed for your inspection and adoption. Which will take some time to get printed Copies of the Abstract the manuscript Copy back here with may be used for the Current year.

6 The proposed Arrangement will obviate the necessity of adjusting the Government Treasury transactions through remittance Heads in your Account. It is therefore specially requested that all transactions made by this Office and the Inter and Governor may not be included in your Accounts sent to this Office from July Current, which Accounts must be Confined to the transactions of your Treasury alone.

7 I further advise from your account received in this Office that certain items which are legitimate receipts of the Personal Estate of His Highness and which should be credited to. "II Miscellaneous Income" are shown under a separate head "Receipt on Account of vii Personal Estate". I request therefore that the necessity for so doing may be kindly explained to this office.

8. As under the new system all the Receipts and Payments in Government Treasuries have to be classified by this office, I request that when-ever any application is send to this office for payments out of Palace funds, the Palace Budget head of Account or accounts to which the payments should be debited may be invariably noted thereon in view to facilitate Classification in my office.

I have the honour to be,
Sir
Your most obedient Servant,
Signed E.H. Subrayer, Comptroller

Similarly as regards three pieces of jewellery of rare merit and excellence of design bought for His Highness the Maharaja at Rs.1,35,650. The cost of both these items amounting to 1,87,234 is a proper charge on the Civil List and should, it is proposed, be met from Palace Funds and not by a grant from the State.

3. Quite apart from the above transaction, is the purchase of jewels for Rs.2,06,313 which Her Highness has been obliged to make for presentation to the Third Princess and the Bridegroom. (Vide - Paras 1 to 6 of the enclosed note.)

4. The total expenditure incurred on the 1st and 2nd Princesses' marriages including the Upanayanum of His Highness the Maharaja (Rs.44,000) was Rs.10,69,000. Against this the State recently sanctioned a grant of two lacs as per approval of Government of India communicated in the First Assistant Resident's letter No. 2616 dated 31st May last. The balance

My dear Sir,

In reply to your letter of the 26th ultimo regarding the expenditure on jewels purchased during the marriage of His Highness the Maharaja and that of the Third Princess, I beg to send you herewith a confidential Note explaining the circumstances under which they were purchased and describing the manner in which it is proposed to meet the charges.

2. In para 9 of Sir K. Sheshadri Iyer's Memo dated 26th April 1900 he mentioned that there was no intention to incur any charge on jewels on account of His Highness the Maharaja and his Bride. Her Highness the Maharani Regent had, originally no idea of purchasing any jewels for them, but on a close examination of the stock of jewels in the Palace Her Highness considered that two or three small jewels of the desired pattern for Her Highness the young of Rs.8,69,000 together with Rs.1,87,234 - Rs.10,56,234 - has fallen entirely upon the Civil List which was 14 lacs during the years 1895-96 and 1896-97 and only 12 lacs during the following three years, due to a separate special investment of two lacs in those years. This expenditure of Rs.10,56,234 on the three marriages coming in such quick succession distributed over the past five years, the Civil List expenditure would stand as follows :-

Jewels for His Highness the Maharaja and Her Highness the young Maharani.

Years	Civil List allotment.	Deduct for marriage expenses.	Balance available for current expenditure.	Remarks.
1895-96	14 lacs	3 lacs	11 lacs	11 lacs is the lowest amount that the ordinary annual expenditure could be cut down to ~~which~~ with greatest possible economy which Her Highness has been sparing no pains to enforce.
1896-97	14 "	3 "	11 "
1897-98	12 "	1 "	11 "
1898-99	12 "	1 "	11 "
	Total -	9 lacs -	which still leaves a balance of

of 1,56,234 to be met during the current and the following years. It is impossible to adjust this as well, as Rs. 2,06,313 during the next two remaining years of the minority even at the rate of a lac a year. Hence Her Highness decided to dispense with the special 2 lacs investment this year (Vide Sir Sheshadri Iyer's D.O. dated 16th July last) which with a lac from the reduced Civil List of 12 lacs in the current year will leave a small balance of Rs.62,547 to be met from the savings of the next year.

Jewels for the Third Princess and the Bridegroom.

5. Her Highness has naturally very strong disinclination to trench upon the invested savings of the late Maharaja and thus divert the same from the purpose for which they were intended, namely, to form a provision for the benefit of his younger son and three daughters; more especially as the duty of providing funds for marriages of daughters devolves devolves entirely upon their parents. In the present case, the charge has accordingly to be met from the Civil List and not from the invested savings belonging to the children. The Civil List this year cannot both pay, for the jewels bought for the Third Princess' marriage (Rs.2,06,313) and bear a deduction of two lacs for separate investment which will be made next year, 1901-1902, the last year of the minority.

Yours Sincerely,

Hon'ble Colonel Donald Robertson, C.S.I.,
Resident in Mysore.

Confidential.

Note.

On the occasion of the marriage of the 3rd Princess Cheluvajammanni Avaru with Mr. Lakshmikantaraj Urs celebrated on 4th June 1900, Her Highness the Maharani-Regent purchased the jewels noted on the margin and presented them to the Bride and Bride-groom. It is a very moderate present compared to what is usually given on such occasions in other Native States and is not "Expenditure" in the sense of money spent on mere festivities &c., with no return to show for it.

2. Her Highness' solicitude to do fairly to her youngest daughter on the occasion of her marriage has contributed greatly to strict economy in every way. But with a reduced Civil List of 12 lacs with absolutely no margin for saving in any direction she has not been able to do more than merely confine her presents to her 3rd Son-in-law to a few ordinary jewels worth about Rs. 61,000, which it is impossible to characterise as extravagant.

with the "Varadakshine" demanded and usual ly paid on such occasions and which remembering the peculiar circumstances of the Mysore Family and the condition of the Ursu community from which the Bridegroom has had to be selected would naturally be expected (both by the Subjects of the State and all concerned) to have been far more liberal than elsewhere.

3. It is scarcely reasonable to expect Her Highness the Maharani Regent during the next few years of the Regency to save from the reduced Civil List the money, required for such extraordinary wants. The fact is,no further reduction of Palace expenditure is possible on the special ground of the minority.

4. The two lacs per annum now separately invested from the Civil List is intended for a purpose* for which the State would otherwise have had to provide from its own revenue. This,however,is a delicate subject on which for obvious reasons it is not desirable to say more at present.

5. In the absence of a separate grant for the 3rd Princess' marriage it is not possible for Her Highness the Maharani Regent to provide out of the Civil List even for those pieces of jewelry which have been absolutely necessary to purchase,as according to Hindu customs and ideas every daughter is expected to be given away in marriage "well bedecked" according to her

* The scheme of State Pensions sanctioned in Assistant Resident's letter dated 28th August 1893 did not include a Dowager Maharani. Sentiment prevented the contemplation of the inauspicious contingency involved. But the idea then was that 14 lacs for the personal expenditure of the Maha raja plus six lacs for all members of the family(which six lacs the Government of India did not consider unreasonable. Vide para 2 of the letter quoted) should be the maximum demand upon the State status in society. That the 3rd Princess' marriage happened to come off with that of the Maharaja's is no valid ground for with holding all help for her marriage and Her Highness would naturally feel very deeply on the subject.

6. Under these circumstances Her High ness the Maharani Regent desired that the annual special investment of two lacs from the Civil List, should not be made for the current year 1900-1901, so as to make the amount available for the expenditure on account of the marriage of the 3rd Princess. Hence Sir Sheshadri Iyer's D.O. dated 16th July 1900 explaining the circumstances and describing the manner in which it is proposed to meet the cost of jewels purchased for the marriage of the 3rd Princess. These presentations are legi timate charges on the annual Civil List of 14 lacs (not on the Civil List reduced to 12 lacs by a special investment of 2 lacs).

7. Quite apart from the jewels as above purchased for the 3rd Princess' marriage, Her Highness purchased a few special jewels for His Highness the Maharaja and for his bride Her Highness the young Maharani. These amount to Rs.1,87,234-1-0 as shown in the margin. Her Highness had originally no intension of purchasing any new jewels for the Maharaja's marriage (vide para 9 of Sir K.Sheshadri Iyer's memo dated 26th May 1900). But on examining the

the following years. It is impossible to adjust this as well as Rs 2,06,313 during the next two remaining years of the minority even at the rate of a lac a year. H.E. the H.Highness decided to dispense with the special 2 lacs investment this year (Vide Sir Sheshadri Iyer's D.O. dated 16th July last) which with a lac from the reduced Civil List of 12 lacs in the current year will leave a small balance of Rs 62,547 to be met from the savings of the next year.

the purpose for which they were intended, namely, to form a provision for the benefit of his younger son and three daughters; more especially as the duty of providing funds for marriages of daughters devolves entirely upon their parents. In the present case, the charge has accordingly to be met from the Civil list and not from the invested savings belonging to the children. The Civil list this year cannot bottle pay for the jewels bought for the Bhind Princess' marriage (Rs 2,06,313) and leave a deduction of two lacs for separate investment which will be made next year, 1901-1902, the last year of the minority.

NOTE.

On the occasion of the marriage of the Third Princess Cheluvajammanniavaru with Mr. Lakshmikanta Urs celebrated on 4th June 1900, Her Highness the Maharani Regent purchased the jewels noted on the margin and presented them to the Bride and Bride-groom. It is a very moderate present compared to what is usually given on such occasions in other Native States and is not "Expenditure" in the sense of money spent on mere festivities &c., with no return to show for it.

2. Her Highness' solicitude to do fairly to her youngest daughter on the occasion of her marriage has contributed greatly to strict economy in every way. But with the reduced Civil List of 12 lakhs, with absolutely no margin for saving in any direction, she has not been able to do more than merely confine her presents to her third son-in-law to a few ordinary jewels worth about Rs. 61,000, which it is impossible to characterize as extravagant, compared with the "Varadakshine" demanded and usually paid on such occasions and which remembering the peculiar circumstances of the Mysore family and the condition of the Ursu community from which the bride-groom has had to be selected would naturally be expected (both by the subjects of the State and all concerned) to have been far more liberal than elsewhere.

3. It is scarcely reasonable to expect Her Highness the Maharani Regent during the next 21 months of the Regency to save from the reduced Civil List the money required for such extraordinary wants. The fact is, no further reduction of Palace expenditure is possible on the special ground of the minority.

4. The two lakhs per annum now separately invested from the Civil List is intended for a purpose* for which the State would otherwise have had to provide from its own revenue. This, however, is a delicate subject on which for obvious reasons it is not desirable to say more at present.

* The scheme of State pensions sanctioned in Assistant Resident's letter dated 28th August 1893 did not include a Dowager Maharani. Sentiment prevented the contemplation of the inauspicious contingency involved. But the idea then was that 14 lakhs for the personal expenditure of the Maharaja + 6 lakhs for all members of the family (which 6 lakhs the Government of India did not consider unreasonable—Vide para 2 of the letter quoted) should be the maximum demand upon the State.

5. In the absence of a separate grant for the Third Princess' marriage it is not possible for Her Highness the Maharani-Regent to provide out of the Civil List even for those pieces of Jewellery which have been absolutely necessary to purchase, as according to Hindu customs and ideas every daughter is expected to be given away in marriage "well bedecked" according to her status in society. That the Third Princess' marriage happened to come off with that of the Maharaja's is no valid ground for withholding all help for her marriage and Her Highness would naturally feel very deeply on the subject.

6. Under these circumstances, Her Highness the Maharani-Regent desired that the annual special investment of two lakhs from the Civil List, should not be made for the current year 1900-1901 so as to make the amount available for expenditure on account of the marriage of the Third Princess. Hence Sir Sheshadri Iyer's D. O. dated 16th July 1900 explaining the circumstances and describing the manner in which it was proposed to meet the cost of Jewels purchased for the marriage of the Third Princess. These presents are legitimate charges on the annual Civil List of 14 lakhs (not on the Civil List reduced).

7. Quite apart from the Jewels as above purchased for the Third Princess' marriage, Her Highness purchased a few Special Jewels for His Highness the Maharaja and his bride Her Highness the young Maharani. These amount to Rs. 1,87,234 as noted in the margin. Her Highness had orginally no intention of purchasing any new Jewels for the Maharaja's marriage (vide para 9 of Sir K. Sheshadri Iyer's Memo dated 26th April 1900). But on examining the stock of Jewels in the Palace, Her Highness considered that a few items of the desired pattern were not available therein and she therefore decided to purchase them. The cost of this purchase, should, it is proposed, be met from Palace funds and not by a grant from the State. This is in accordance with Sir K. Sheshadri Iyer's proposal which he has placed on record.

Some days ago I personally explained to Her Highness how the marriage accounts which the Resident called for stood. I also explained the different items of processes.

Bangalore

26th December 1900

My dear Sir,

I am sorry I could not send you a reply to para 4 of your Office letter No 5286 dated 13th October last, in re the liabilities of the Palace owing to the expenditure incurred recently in the purchase of jewels for the marriages of His Highness the Maharaja and the 3rd Princess. The accounts in detail which I have asked the Palace Controller to send me with Budgets of Receipts and Expenditure for the current year, have not yet been received. I shall send my reply as soon as the accounts are received. In the meantime I may tell you, as I personally explained to you on the 18th Instant, that a sum of nearly 4 lacs has been advanced× for payment of the price of the jewellery purchased from Sawker & Sons. This reduces the Civil List grant of the current year from 14 to 10 lacs, while the ordinary current expenditure of the Palace amounts to 12 lacs which, as I am informed by both Col. Campbell and Mr. Narsinmiengar, does not admit of any curtailment. An advance of 2 lacs in addition to the 10 lacs actually available has to be made to meet the Palace requirements. Under these circumstances if the investment of 2 lacs; on account of Her Highness the Maharani Regent, is not postponed as already recommended by Sir Sheshadri Iyer it will be impossible to make the investment unless a further advance of two lacs be made. I hope you will be pleased to consider what I mentioned to you, when talking over the question of jewels of the value of 4 lacs purchased for the marriage.

× on 3rd Aug: 1900

for investment & should not be postponed

Mysore,

My dear Sir,

My manager tells me that you wanted a copy of the Palace Budget for the current official year, and I have the pleasure to enclose the same for your acceptance.

He has also informed me that you require a copy of the list of advances from the Palace still outstanding. This is under preparation.

In connection with the Budget, allow me to revert to my D.O. of the 23rd August last. Since the proposals contained therein were made, the Palace has been called upon to meet certain additional demands, which were not foreseen, when the Budget was prepared. Among them is included the price of the jewels purchased in connection with the royal marriages, which had been first debited to the Govt. but which were required in Mr. Srikantiswara Iyer's D.O. of the 4th Oct. last, to be paid by the Palace. A list of these items is attached for easy reference.

As it is not right to postpone the settlement of tradesmen's bills, H.H. the Maharani-Regent has permitted me to write to you and propose that the receipts under 'Personal Estate', amounting to nearly a lakh, should this year be devoted to the adjustment at once of the claims in question; and that the same should be appropriated in the next two years for the liquidation of the advance, amounting to Rs. 3,97,132-1-9 made by Govt. to Ranganath Thakur for the jewelery purchased for the marriages. By this arrangement, the debit balance against the Palace on account of this item will be wiped out in 1901-2 and 1902-3, instead of in 1900-1 and 1901-2, as at first proposed by me in the letter above quoted.

I beg to add that it is not possible to make further reductions in the Palace expenditure this year. Establishts, Stables & Supplies?

I shall feel much obliged if you will be so good as to let me know if these proposals may be carried out.

I remain,
Yours Sincerely,
M Ramaswamiyenga.

Bangalore,

2nd January 1901.

Dear Mr.Narasim Iyengar,

Thanks for your D.O.,dated 30th ultimo and the Budget Statements of Receipts and Expenditure-also the List of Advances. I am getting the figures checked by the Comptroller here,and I shall,meantime,be obliged by your letting me have information on following points.

Out of 14 lakhs (Civil List Budget of Current year), about 9¾ lakhs have been advanced up to end of October- or in round figures about 10 lakhs. There remains only 4 lakhs plus investment interest and Miscellaneous items amounting to about Rs.2 lakhs. The list of advances sent shows a little over 4¾ lakhs outstanding but I would like to know the anticipated repayments during the current year, and out of such repayments how much could be utilised for meeting the ordinary Expenditure of the Palace, stopping making further loans or advances not absolutely wanted.

Please

Please let me know what is the amount you have ctually drawn for expenses up to 31st December 1900,

I warmly reciprocate the good wishes of the season contained in your note under acknowledgment.

Yours Sincerely,

V. T. A. Thumboochetty

GOVERNMENT OF MYSORE

Mysore,
9 Jany. 1901

My dear Sir,

As requested in your note of the 2nd inst, I beg to enclose a statement showing the amount drawn by me for the Palace Expenditure from July last. The total amounts to Rs 8,28,793-14-6 ; from which the charges debitable to Govt being deducted, the net Expenditure amounts to Rs 7,78,793-14-6. I doubt not that other items have been added by the Govt Controller to raise the total to nearly 10 lakhs.

These Expenses were unavoidable on account of the demands created by the marriage. Every care has been taken to avoid unnecessary charges, and much economy has been enforced in the various heads & subheads of the Palace service. If the extra & special charges directly traceable to the marriage be set aside, you will find that the normal Expenditure of the Palace is well within the recognized limit of a lakh a month, which has been kept in view roughly as a guide. Our Expenditure embraces a period of 7 months, as the account now sent last month is utilized in January current. Loans & advances to all but the menial servants of the Palace, — and that too on a very moderate scale, — have been refused throughout this year.

Extract Sir

If you will be so good as to turn to the Palace Budget, which a copy was enclosed in my last letter of the 30th Inst., you will perceive that about Rs 4,000 is expected to be realized this year from licences, most of which were granted before my time.

I shall feel much obliged if you will kindly let me know at your early convenience whether the realizations under 'Personal Estate' may be utilized as suggested in my last letter: for the urgent claims of certain Fiscals remain to be early met.

I remain,
Gentlemen,
Your most obedient Servant,

E. R. SUBRAYER, Esq.,

Comptroller of Mysore.

To

The Palace Controller

in Mysore

Sir,

I have the honour to invite your attention to this office No: 1309 dated 13th/28th August last and regret that your accounts are still being rendered in the old form instead of in the new form as instructed in detail in the above Communication

2. The information called for in para 7 of the above letter has not also yet been furnished

3. Expecting that the accounts will be received in the new form at the latest from October last, payments made by Government Treasuries on Palace Account up to that month have not been communicated to you.

4. Herewith I send a list of all payments made by the Civil Treasuries up to the end of December last and the Tutor and Governor's account up to the end of November and request you will be so good as to enter them in the two columns set apart therefor in your account for December next that may be sent to this office. If however your accountant cannot do this satisfactorily I beg that this list may be returned at an early date and your account for November last which is still due in this office may be caused to be prepared in the new form and sent to this office for filling up the two columns intended for the Comptroller and for the Lutor and Governor

5. I find also from your Palace accounts that the funds drawn on account of marriage expenses out of General and Revenue under sanction of Government conveyed in Pro: No: × dated

× have been without any apparent necessity credited to the Palace Civil List Account and the expenditure therefrom shown therein. The funds were placed at your disposal as an advance, to be accounted for by you as a Government disbursement and should have been drawn on either advance memos or on separate cheques instead of on the cheques intended to be used for the Palace Account with the heading "Marriage Expenses". A separate account should have been maintained showing on the credit side all funds drawn from the Treasury on this account and on the debit side all the expenditure incurred therefrom instead of mixing up both the accounts as has been done.

Rs: D.C 88 & 27 Th
Apl'co & D.C 73
& 20-8-1900.
& D.C 153-57
& 4-10-00.

6. From the Treasury accounts it is found that Rs 329181-1-5 has been drawn by you on cheques with

with heading "Marriage Expenses" while I find from your Palace accts Rs 313,556-1-3 is shown as having been drawn for marriage expenses. Cheques Nos: (See list sent) bearing heading "Palace Expenses" ~~has~~ and Cheque No. 77 bearing heading "Marriage Expenses" have been credited in your accounts Vice Versa under "Marriage Expenses and "Palace Expenses"

7. Neither the marriage account just received from you furnishes a list of all cheques on which funds for the purpose were drawn, nor has any reply been yet received to this office No: 3781/577 dated 12th instant. Your Palace accounts for the months of Aug & Oct 1900 and the cheques above referred to are therefore herewith returned for explanation of the discrepancies and correction if found necessary.

Confidential
& Urgent

30th January 190

My dear Sir,

From the abstract of Palace account you gave me on 12. 12. 190 you showed a net credit of Rs: 16,97,0 in favor of Palace besides an outstand -ing due to Palace of Rs 3,82,471 -

The Personal estate or Surplus fund of H.H. the late Maharaja is Rs 9,99,000 + 2,94,500 = 12,93,500 - The interest which has accrued on the investment from 1895. 96 to 1899. 00 is roughly calculated at Rs 2,60,000 - The current years interest will be about Rs 50,000 in all, Rs 3,10,000 is the amount which has to be added on to Rs 12,93,500 making in all Rs: 16,03,500 The accounts properly speaking should show Rs 16,03,500/ as the amount now appertaining to the personal estate of the late Maharaja — in other words, treating this 16 lacs & odd as separate fund, the increase shewn in your account of 12. 12. 00 (viz Rs 16,97,054) should be reduced by Rs: 16,03,500, leaving a credit balance of Rs: 93554 only, or less than a lac - I send for reference copy of your account and please let me know by return of post if the account as stated by me above is correct. I think the Palace account must correctly exhibit separately not only the 12,93,500 already invested in papers but also the sums which accrued from time to time as interest.

It is a pity the interest which so accrued was not heretofore invested, which if done, the Personal estate up to date would have been a great deal more than 16 lacs odd - Please send me a repy by return of post and let me know what is the net credit balance up to 31st December last — whether 16970.5/4 which you showed up to 30th June last, has been increased or decreased on 31st December - The matter is urgent for submission to H.H. - Please therefore send me a repy× without delay -

Yours truly,

Sd J. R. A. Thumboochetty

My dear Sir,

Herewith I send you a detailed Statement of receipts & disbursements brought to account up to end of December last both in the Civil and Palace Treasuries.

The enclosed copies of my letters Nos. 1309 & 4051 dated 13.8.0041.2.901 respectively will explain why the receipts and payments in Civil Treasuries on account of Palace were not monthly intimated to the Palace Controller.

Finding that the Palace Try. was

was not adjusting correctly the transactions periodically intimated by this Office, accounts were used to be consolidated
all along in this Office annually including all Palace transactions, and a copy of such account furnished
to him for information & needful adjustment.
This too did not appear to have been correctly done. On the complaint of the Palace Controller that transactions of Civil Treasuries are not intimated to him periodically and in time, — monthly intimations of such transactions were given to him since 1896 and the adjustments

adjustments made thereon by the Palace Controller were found imperfect and erroneous causing a great deal of confusion and delay in the preparation and consolidation of the Palace Annual Accounts in this Office.

Hence my letter No 1309 dated 13 8.00 was written to the Palace Controller in August giving him complete instructions and asking him to send his accounts in a form in which my Office can at once enter all the transactions of the Civil Treasuries & return to him.

I am, Gentlemen,

GOVERNMENT OF MYSORE

Bangalore

My dear Sir,

The Invested Surplus of Rs. 1293.500 on 1st July 95. will together with interest up to end of 1899-900 amount to Rs. (1293.500 + 260.000) = 1553.500. Deducting this amount from the Surplus of Rs. 1775.000 on 1st July 00 as per final Accounts the opening Balance for the current year will be Rs. 221.500. The probable receipts to end of December will be Rs. 864.000. & the expenditure Rs. 1183.000. resulting in a deficit of Rs. 97.500/ The estimated receipts from Jany. to June next will be about Rs. 7. lacs and the expenditure the same. A deficit of about 1 lac.

may result at the close of the year so far as the Civil List Acct. is concerned, but it must be remembered the the sum of Rs. 221.500 shewn as opening Balance on 1st July 1900 was not wholly in cash, the balance in cash being only 33,487, the rest of the balance viz 188 is locked up in Advances & Loans This amount of 1,88,000/ plus the estimated deficit of Rs. 100.000 on 30th June/01 plus a working balance of about Rs 35.000 to begin the next year or in all Rs. 323.000/ will have to be overdrawn from Govt Treasuries to meet all the ordinary requirements up to the end of June 1901, provided that no extra advances or loans are made during the year.

A detailed memo of working is herewith sent.

I have received the Palace Account only up to October last. I am therefore obliged to give only rough figures for November and December.

The calculation made in your letter of 30. January 1901 is correct, but owing to some adjustments in the final accounts of last year the surplus has to be altered from 16.97.054 to Rs. 17.75.816 vide accompanying statement. Further it is proposed in your letter to add the current years interest of Rs. 50.000/- to the 2.60.000/- realised up to 1899-900, & to deduct the whole from the surplus on 30. June 1900 but since the above surplus does not include include the Rs.50.000/ this sum cannot be deducted therefrom.

The outstanding lists for 1st July 1895 and 1st Nov 1900. are herewith sent. These lists tallied with the Palace Controller's figures as the adjustments made by this office are not oftentimes taken by him in his accounts though intimations are sent to him. This office does not maintain a Personal Ledger & it is not therefore possible to verify the balances claim against each individual within a reasonable short time.

Special arrangement must be made to have these lists agreed, both the Accountant of the Palace Treasury and the Accountant in this office working

GOVERNMENT OF MYSORE

My dear Sir

I have this day received your letter with details in re Palace a/c.

The debit balance against the Palace on 1st July 1898, as reported by Sir Sheshadri Iyer to the Resident in his memo of 21st Oct 1899, was

Rs 442234-6-10

From the accounts now furnished am I right in understanding that on the 31 Dec. last the debit balance has been reduced by Rs 285207 on account of the following details:-

12

Surplus on 1st July 1900
less Debt a/c — 221,561

add Surplus from last Yr. 624 470
Ed'l Grant this Yr — 240 000

10,86,031

less Excess from last Yr
Cess — 733 064
Ed'l Grant this Yr 250 000 } 11,83,064

Deficit debit a/c 97,133.

This deficit will be more if the Loans & outstandings be added amount — 188074

28,5207

But what I don't understand is that Loans & advances outstanding on 31 Dec 1900 amount to Talwin Contribution a/c

X Debt
Cash 33487+18807+

⊗ Includes the amount for 16 Tanneries 397132

addmpt this 13643 Rs du Yr on 1st
The Mundr deficit n be 29835 Rupees 3 lacs against 442, on 1st July 9

X

This amount is shown as outstanding only in the Current Civil List. To this must be added the amt shown in the late Mahrajah's investment acct viz 260755 + 13143 due to Govt by 1st Jan II making a total of 461972. The Palace Controller figures include the outstandings on both accts viz that of late Mahrajah's investments which have been separated many years as you wanted

last or

£ Rs 479748 whereas in your a/c up to 30 June/99 the amount outstanding is

Rs 188074.

Difference between 479748 L 188074

291674 was so much as 291674 or near so I can draw Rent between 1 Jan & 31 Dec 1900?

Please explain.

Another point on which I entertain doubt is this

The Panial Estate a/c stands thus

Amt Invested 1293500

Int thereon to 30 June 1900 260755
" 31 Dec/1900 24822

Total Rs 1579077.

Actually invested 1293500

Balance due to the Imperial Estate as at } 285577

Is this amount available immediately for investment - & if not when should it be made good. Please explain

III

No. The whole amt is locked up in loans & advances. I am unable to say how it can be made good except by first liquidating the money or machinery or plant.

In column 10 the Balance as at 1st Jan 1900 is 1775876.

Net credit on 1st Jan 1900 1293500

Add. Amt invested

Balance credit 482376

Add Balance on the above Loans Stock 461972

Total Capital 954348

GOVERNMENT OF MYSORE

No - The outstandings of 461972 is already included in 17,75,816 or in other words in the Balance to credit of Palace of Rs 482316 thus:

Outstandings 461972
Cash net 20344
482316

Am I right in saying that the balance as on 1st July 1900 amounts to Rs 954288

i.e. In Cash 482316
In outstandings (Loans & Debts Misc. Revenue) 461972.

Total Rs 954288

If so, deducting from the deficit shown in yr abstract of Dec Rs 285207 the balance to credit (Cash & Loans & Debts) will amt to Rs 669081

153

If my statement of account is correct then is no deficit at all —

Please explain if I am correct a reasonment —

In July 1895 my account shows Opening balance of Rs 2145005 and in addn outstandings Rs 48216 — under Debt

Is the Debt a Loan a/c separate from current receipts. VI

What was the amt of Loans & debts outstanding on 1st July 1895 — Rs 48216 represents the Cash balance remg in hand on Debt a/c but not the whole amount of debts &

VIII

Ifso what was the amt of outstandings in addn to cash balce of Rs 48216?

(X) There was no excess Payt at all. The outstandings were shown previous to 1898 as part of Balance see above para. under Debt since that year they have been transferred to a Separate Debt Bd as loans & advances as required by the Bombay Govt this is done in our Principal acct. As to whether he has done correctly or not this office is not in a position to state as the Palace Controller has ~~not~~ not transmitted such Consolidated Annual accts to this office for agreement making all the adjustments as required by this Office & all these adjustments have been made

Year after year and correct Opening balances brought forward there should be no difference between the Palace & this Office accounts.
To what Extent the Palace Controller has made these adjustments whether correctly or not & how these differences have arisen
the Palace Comptr alone is in a position to explain as we have no information on these points. =

GOVERNMENT OF MYSORE

Mysore,
7 Feby. 1901

My dear Sir,

I beg to return your D.O. of 2nd Inst. enclosed with the following answers to your queries. I have red. marked the same for facility of reference.

(1) & (5) The Palace Cash Balance may be accepted as correct.

(2). I cannot trace the amount of 864470 under receipts for July to Dec. 1900. The Palace Treasury figures are 769993: including 114427 under marriage Expenses.

(3) Under Expenditure, Excluding Rs 397132 paid by Govt. to Ranganātha Thākur, the actual amount is . . 661329

Total 1058451

Add Expenditure debitable to Govt. . . 47056

Gr. Total 1105506

(4) I cannot understand how this item has been obtained, and shall not therefore venture to explain it.

(5) The debit balance shown in my Manager's Statement is correct. But why the cash balance in the Treasury should be deducted therefrom and the difference explained I cannot understand.

(7) I do not know how you have got 188074 as the amounts sent & advanced on 1st July last. Their total is nine lacs nine.

(8) The outstandings in my acct. upto Oct 31. 1900, (vide Dec. 31. 1900) are correct. 479748-10-1 But what item 188074 is and why it has been deducted from 479748-10-1 is more than I can say.

(9) No. The amts due to the Palace on 31-10-1900 as stated above, viz.- 479748. We did not lend or advance as much as 291674 between July & Dec. 1900. The advances in this period come up to only 12997 (recoverable). Excluding working advances & Depts, & Special Estt. besides deposits with Firms.

Nor can I trace 461972.

If further explanation is required, I shall dispute my manager to give it whenever you please.

My dear Sir,

I am now able to reply to your 'confidential' letter of the 4th inst. The Registers are kept up to date of the leaves and advances from the Palace. These are of course exclusive of the regular accounts current of the Palace Budget. Every item is entered in the same, and we can give you at any time full details of every loan or advance to every individual from 1892-3.

But individual 'ledgers' are not kept.

Advances are of 2 kinds,
(1) Loans to individuals to be returned by instalments or otherwise, and (2) working advances i.e. Imprests in the hands of depts and mercantile Firms for carrying on the ordinary business of the Index. Only

(1) is recoverable. The rest is struck off as adjustments are made from time to time.

I require time to tell you completely how much has been recovered out of the advances upto date, the late Maharajah time, and how much has been lent since. We have not been able to lend much since I joined, as the funds available do not admit of loans.

I shall be very pleased to give the State Controller any

My dear Sir,

Kindly look over the enclosed draft reply. You know the whole correspondence - I have had more than one interview with Her Highness, who also understands how the matter stands - The only way of adjusting the Palace heavy liability is by indenting on the Personal estate of H.H. the late Maharaja; but this, I cannot conscientiously advise Her Highness to do for reasons which I have already explained to the Resident - I also allude to

GOVERNMENT OF MYSORE

Bangalore

28th February 1907.

My dear Sir,

In reference to the marriage expenditure, the Hon'ble the Resident has again written for some further explanation. I enclose Col Robertson's letter with draft of the proposed reply which I will thank you to kindly submit to Her Highness the Maharani Regent for approval. As the Resident wants reply urgently I shall feel much obliged by your kindly returning the papers by the same messenger that brings them, if possible by tomorrow night.

The invested savings of H. H. the late Maharaja, amounting to Rs12,93,500 are in tact. They have not been touched at all — but the interest which accrued thereon, amounting to Rs 2,85,577, which ought to have been added on to the investments (12,93,500) has been utilized for Palace purposes, as was done in the case of remittances under "Miscellaneous" ~~receipts~~. This was not specially referred to in Sir Sheshadri Iyer's pre-vious report, hence there is a difficulty in making the Resident understand how we were able to reduce the overdraft of Rs 4,42,284, which stood against the Palace on 30th June ~~1900~~ 1898, by about Rs 17,000 odd on 30th June 1900. I have made this clear in our present reply to the Resident. The Palace having utilized the interest due to H.H. the late Maharaja's Personal

Estate to the extent of Rs 2,85,577, this sum has to be recouped gradually, as savings accrue and added on to the investments already made. From the current year the interest will not be credited to "Palace Funds" but added on to "Investments of Rummal Estate". There has been a little confusion in these Palace Accounts which I had to go through minutely lately. I have done all I could to rectify what had to be.

There is yet the separate account of "Debts and Loans" - in regard to which the figures of Govt Comptroller and Palace Controller do not agree. I am now going into them. Yours Sincerely

S. D. J. R. A. Chambers

Palace overdraft.

The total expenditure incurred by the Palace on the marriage of the 1st & 2nd Princesses amounted to Rs 11,64,106, including a sum of Rs 43,988 spent upon the Repairs of H. H. the Maharaja celebrated on the same dates as the marriage of the 2nd Princess.

This total marriage expenditure was met in part from the annual Civil Estimate for 1895-96 and 1896-97 and in part by an overdraft upon the State Treasury to the extent of Rs 4,42,234-6-6.

To meet this overdraft, Sir K. Sheshadri has proposed in his D. O. letters to the Resident dated 23rd June '99 and 6th July '99 respectively that a State Grant of two lacs for each marriage or a total of 4 lacs should be made to the Palace.

Sir K. Sheshadriyer urged that it was time that the Govt of India in August 1893 had expressed the opinion that the Civil List should bear the whole of the expenditure
on account of marriages,
but since then the condition of things had very materially changed. The sudden and premature demise in December 1894 of H. H. Chama-
-rajendra Wadayar upset
all previous calculations.
On the one hand, the ordinary Palace expenditure had to be maintained, without much appreciable reduction, while on the other a large extraordinary expenditure
on account of marriages
and Upanayanam had to be incurred in the first two years of the minority.
During these two years
(1895-'96 and 1896-97)
the civil list was allowed to remain at 14 lacs

× 1st in Asst Resident's Letter to the of 28th August 1893

per annum as before, but during the ~~next two~~ succeeding years, the civil list had been reduced to 12 Lacs per annum owing to the separate investment of two Lacs as already approved by the Govt of India, as an independent provision for H H. the Maharani-Regent.[X] Her Highness had wisely abstained from touching the accumulation of previous years' civil List Savings, left by H. H. the late Maharaja, amounting to about 13 Lacs, all invested in Govt Paper; and as regards the savings of the civil List of subsequent years they were fully absorbed by the separate investment of 2 Lacs per annum which was being made with effect from 1897-98. Under such circumstances the proposed grant of 4 Lacs from the State was the readiest way of meeting the deficit caused by the large expenditure on the two marriages. Regarded from the point of popular sentiment, a good deal could be said in favour of the State contributing a share of the expenditure.

X 18th in each Resident's letter comp No 34 dy 3rd in January 1898.

In a subsequent Memorandum of 12th July 1899, submitted to the Resident, the Dewan pointed out that the whole of the expenditure upon the marriages of the Princesses and the Kalyanam of the maharaja was really incurred in 1895-96 and 1896-97, but the whole of it could not be passed into the Palace accounts for those years, as a part stood charged to an "advance" previously and another part consisted of payments made in the subsequent years on account of purchases made for the marriages. The expenditure in question stood charged in the Palace Expenditure accounts as shown below —

X III

Year	Amount
1895-96	3,15,647-8-a
1896-97	5,15,101-14-7
1897-98	2,84,395-9-8 ×
	× (a sum of 30,068-12-6 having been expended pending details from Palace Controller)
1898-99	6 972-9-4
Total	11,20,117-9-9
Upamanam	43,988-12-6
Grand Total	11,64,106-6-3

Until the whole of the expenditure in question had been dealt with, it was impossible to ascertain the net deficit against the Palace. And pending this process no mention was made of the anticipated deficit in the Dewan's letter dated 10th Nov 1897 which reported the arrangement for the separate investment of 2 lacs per annum out of the annual civil List with effect from 1897-98 - an arrangement undertaken by Her Highness the Maharani-Regent at the private advice of Col. Roberton.

A large number of guests had been received and entertained and the usual Khilluts to them and to Urzas gentlemen and ladies amounted for a material part of the total expenditure. Another large item was "presents to Bridegrooms" including money, jewells, cloths, a house &c which had been given to them owing to the well-known impecunious condition of the Urzas Community of Jaypore.

In the absence of a special State grant there were only two ways in which the deficit could be met, namely, 1st from the accumulation left by the late Maharaja, to do which was most unpopular, because it was intended for the benefit of his younger son and three daughters - and 2nd from the Civil List of 1877-78 and subsequent years, which it was not possible to arrange with the separate annual investment of 2 lacs.

The orders of the Govt of India were communicated in the Residents letter No 2616 — 481-99 dy 31st May 1900. The Govt of India were not prepared to surrender the principle formerly enunciated by them that marriage grants to members of the ruling family of Mysore formed a legitimate charge against the civil list. At the same time, looking to the management of the present civil list, & the fact that the accounts were well kept and that the palace expenditure constituted no charge upon the State Revenues, the Govt of India consented to 2 lacs of rupees being paid by the State, the remaining 2 lacs being met from the invested Sovereign of the late Maharaja. This Concession was made as a Special compliment to H. H. the Maharani and in recognition of the sound financial arrangements which had been made. It was not to be regarded as a precedent, and it was made on the condition that the outlay upon the Marriage of Her Highness' 3rd daughter would not exceed the stipulated sum of 3 Lacs, and would be defrayed without any call upon the State Resources.

In G. O. No 116 – 1170C dt/ 18th Sep '00, the Comptroller was accordingly requested to adjust the advances made by debit of 2 Lacs to the Provincial Budget in the Accounts of 1899-'00 as grant for the above two Marriages.

In connection with the Marriage of H H the Maharaja, the Dewan sent up a Memorandum dated 26th April 1900, to the Resident in which he said that the State had sanctioned the very moderate sum of 3 lacs for the purpose and every endeavour was being made to keep the total expenditure within the above limit. This sum however was not intended to include any charge on account of jewels for His Highness the Maharaja and his bride, as the state jewels were all available for their use and Her Highness the Maharani Regent considered that no purchase of new jewelery for them was required for this occasion.

Another large item which could not be met from the sanctione 3 lakhs was the construction, lighting and furnishing of the marriage pavilion.

Though the structure was intended to be a temporary one, yet iron trusses and corrugated iron sheets for the roof, and iron water pipes for pillars were being used, as these materials could afterwards be removed and utilized for permanent slate buildings and water-supply projects which were under contemplation. Similarly electric and gas lighting was proposed to be used as the plant could afterwards be used for the part of the palace which was under reconstruction.

The carpets &c. to be ordered for the pavilion could hereafter be similarly used for the new part of the Palace. The cost
on these items therefore could not be regarded as a charge debitable to the marriage expenditure proper. An uncertain item was "Reception and Entertainment of Distinguished Guests", which, if unusually large would have to be met out of a special grant over and above the 3 lakhs sanctioned. It was almost impossible to frame an accurate estimate for the various uncertain items of an event like the marriage of the Maharaja. The fixing of the moderate sum of three lakhs would help to check the total expenditure within the lowest possible limit, and to reduce to a mini mum

minimum any supplemental grant found necessary hereafter.

On the 7th May 1900 the Resident in a D.O. letter conveyed VII
the sanction of the Govt of India to the proposed expenditure of three lakhs on His Highness the Maharaja's marriage, extra to the cost of the Pavilion.

It was also recognized that the cost of entertaining distinguished guests should form
a separate charge.

On the 16th July 1900
Sir K Sheshadri Iyer wrote to Col. Robertson intimating that H.H. the Highness VIII proposed to dispense with the separate investment of 2 lakhs
for the year 1900-01,

GOVERNMENT OF MYSORE

as the civil List of that year could not pay both for the jewels bought for the 3rd Princess' marriage (Rs 2,06,313) and at the same time make a separate investment of 2 lakhs. This proposal was in accordance with the principle mentioned in para 2 of the Residency Letter No 2933/3-6-93 of 28th August 1893, that special portions or dowries on occasions of marriage were to be regarded as forming a legitimate charge on the Maharaja's Civil List. As it had been decided that no special state grant was to be made for the marriage of the 3d Princess, there was no means of meeting the above mentioned charge except by abstaining from making the separate investment of 2 lakhs for the year 1900-01.

On the 26th August 1900 Col. Robertson wrote to the Hy. Dewan, Mr Nambiar Chetty with reference to Sir K. Sheshadri Iyer's letter of the 16th July enquiring whether, notwithstanding the assurance reported to the Govt of India, there had been a large expenditure in jewels.
He also asked for a reply regarding the marriage pavilion and the articles employed in its construction.
He also said that the question of interference with the arrangements sanctioned by the Govt of India under which 2 lakhs from the Civil List was to be invested yearly was one, the decision in which could not be anticipated but must be referred with a full explanation

IX

for the orders of H.E. the Viceroy. He also urged the necessity for taking steps to ensure the early settlement of the marriage accounts so that he might be enabled to address the Govt of India at an early date.

In reply to the above letter the Hy. Dewan, in October 1900, forwarded a ~~memo~~ note by Sir K Sheshadri Iyer dated 16th Septr 1900, explaining the more important items of expenditure in which forecasts had been exceeded

Bhoori & Dakshina
excess 17,570 Rs

Feeding of Brahmins
in the Mysore City — 15,883

Lavajama & outside guests ——————
24,5-91

Khillats & presents: 55,950

Music & Nautch. 10,236

The grant of 3 lakhs ~~has~~ sanctioned for H's marriage had been exceeded by 1,16,378 which had to be repaid from the State by a supplemental grant. This great increase in expenditure was due chiefly to the very large number of people who gathered at Mysore to witness the great event. The

The outlay on the erection of the marriage Pavilion, its lighting and furnishing amounted to Rs 2,15,713, of which the approximate value of the materials available for other use was 1,28,862. The net extra expenditure chargeable to the marriage was 86,851, the balance of 1,28,862 being debited to P.W.D, which held the stock for future disposal and adjustment.

4813

The expenditure for the entertainment of distinguished guests was 1,61,047, debitable to the marriage account. Considering the value of jewels and cloth received as presents by the brides and bridegrooms on hand at the Palace amounting to 1,63,540, their expenditure did not appear immoderate or excessive having regard to the status of Mysore.

X

The expenditure incurred on the marriage of the 3d Princess was chiefly on religious ceremonies & Dakshine and amounted to R30,697.

XI

On the 30th Sept: 1900 the Officiating Dewan wrote a further letter to the Resident, explaining the circumstances under which jewels to the amount of nearly 4 lakhs had been purchased and describing the manner in which it was proposed to meet the charges. It was then that in para 9 of Sir K Sheshadri Iyer's memo dated 26th April 1940, he had mentioned that there was no intention to incur any charge on jewels on account of H.H. the Maharaja & his bride. Her Highness however on a close examination of the stock of jewels in the Palace considered that two or three small jewels of the desired pattern for the H. Highness the Young Maharani were not available and therefore decided to purchase them at a small cost of Rs 51,584; similarly as regards three pieces of jewelry of rare ment & excellence of design bought for His Highness

23

the Maharaja at 1,35,650.
The cost of both these items amounting to 1,87,234 was a proper charge on the Civil list and was proposed to be met from Palace funds and not by a grant from the State. Quite apart from the above transaction was the purchase of jewels for ~~2 lakhs~~
2,06,313 which Her Highness had been obliged to make for presentation to the third Princess at the bridegroom.

The total expenditure incurred on the 1st & 2nd Princesses' marriages including the Upanayanam of His Highness the Maharaja (44,000 Rs) was Rs 10,69,000. Against this the State had recently sanctioned
a grant of 2 lakhs
as per approval of the Govt. of India.

The balance of 8, 69, 000
together with 1, 87, 234, ~~been together~~ total 10, 56, 234 had fallen entirely upon the civil list which was 14, 00000 during the years
'95-'96 & 96-97., and only 12, 00000, during the following 3 years
due to a separate special investment of 2 lakhs in those years. ~~Their~~ ~~pensions of~~ 11 lakhs was the lowest amount required for the ordinary & annual Palace expenditure, so that from '95-'96
to 1899-1900 ~~there~~ there could only be a saving of 9 lakhs payable towards the municipal charges, leaving still a balance of 1, 56, 234 to be met during the year 1900-01, and
the following years.
It was impossible to adjust this as well as 2, 06, 313 during the next two years of the remaining

minority even at the rate of a lakh a year. Hence, His Highness had decided to dispense with the special 2 lakhs investment in 1900-1901 which, with a lakh from the reduced Civil List of 12,00000 in 1900-01 would leave a small balance of 62,547 to be met from the savings of the next year. His Highness had naturally very strong disinclination to trench upon the invested savings of the late Maharaja, & thus divert the same from the purpose for which they were intended; viz to form a provision for the benefit of the younger son and three daughters, more especially as the duty of providing funds for the marriage of daughters devolved entirely upon the parents. In the present case the charge had accordingly to be met from the Civil list and not from the invested savings belonging to the children.

XII

The Resident, in his reply No. 5285 of 13.10.'00. stated that it was disappointing to find when Sir Sheshadri Iyer himself was present at Mysore superintending the marriage celebrations and festivities, such a large and as compared with that incurred on the late Maharaja's marriage in 1878 an extravagant expenditure should have been allowed. So far therefore, the marriage of His Highness the Maharaja had cost the State

Marriage Ceremonies	Rs 4, 16, 378
Cost of Pavilion	86, 851
Entertainment of guests	1, 61, 047
Total	6, 64, 276

The expenditure of 1,87,234, on account of purchase of jewelry need not be considered, as it was apparently intended that this sum should be defrayed from the Civil List. The necessity for the outlay in the face of the decision announced in Sir Shekar's Lyr's Memorandum of 26.4.00
seem to be insufficiently explained. In conclusion the Resident enquired whether the accounts had been regularly audited, and if so, whether for the purposes of a report to the Govt of India, the figures as summarised in his present letter might be accepted as correct.

XIII

In a further Residency letter No 5-286 of 13.10.02
the Resident remarked that as regards the marriage of the 3rd

daughter no question of assistance from the State could arise, seeing that the expenditure in such a case was debitable entirely to the Civil list. ~~A fresh case~~ The circumstances under which a portion of the excess expenditure on the occasion of the marriage of the 1st & 2nd daughters was debited to State Funds were of an exceptional nature, and could not be held applicable to the present case. The expenditure of 2,06,313 ℔ which had been incurred for presents to the bride and bridegroom must therefore be debited to the Civil List, and no reference to the Govt of India appeared to be required since that the prescribed limit of 3 lakhs had not been exceeded in this marriage.

With reference to dispensing with the investment of 2 lakhs

in 1900 – or it was not open. to Her Highness to vary the arrangement, approved by the Govt of India, without previous reference to them. It would probably help Her Highness if you could arrange to prepare with the Palace Controller a statement of the exact m/c Palace liabilities in connection with these marriages. Apparently the expenditure on the marriage of the 3rd
daughter amounted to 30,697 Rs to which must be added 2,06,313
for jewels – or a total of 2,37,010 Rs, which as had been remarked was well within the 3 lakhs – limit.
There was, however,
the sum of 1,87,234
on account of jewels bought for the Maha-Raja to be entered and it seemed quite possible that with these heavy charges some urgent necessity might exist for retrenchment in the Civil List.

XIV

The Officiating Dewan, in letter No. 7. D. of 14.10.00 replying to the Resident's No. 5285 of 13.10.00 stated that orders had already been issued on the subject of the audit of the expenditure. The audit would naturally take some time but it is anticipated that the result would not materially affect the amounts shown as actually expended under the principal heads, and as summarised in the letter under reply. It was gratifying to learn that the Resident agreed that the sum of Rs 1, 61, 047 on the Reception & entertainment of distinguished guests was not immoderate. As regards the observation that the expenditure as compared with that incurred in the late maharaja's marriage in 1878 was exhaustive, it was pointed out that the circumstances attending the celebration of the recent marriages were widely different from those of 1878, when the great sufferings through which the Province had passed in consequence of the great famine and from which it had scarcely recovered, the heavy debt under which the State was groaning, and the uncertainty of the season which was looked forward to with deep anxiety —

added rendered it undesirable that the ceremonies and festivities should be celebrated on a more expensive scale. Further the number of invited and uninvited guests was contrary to all expectations, - so great that it was found impossible to adhere to the original forecast, which was based on the experience of the two previous marriages, when the number was only about a fourth of what had attended on the present occasion,
as a consequence of which,
extra expenditure was inevitable under the heads of - Charity, Larajanna, & Khillats which alone accounted for the excess of 1,16,378
Rs over the estimate of 3 lakhs. Regarding the purchase of a few jewels of the value of £1,87,234 for H.H. the Maharaja of his bride ~~which~~ it was true that Her Highness the Maharani Regent

had originally no intention of purchasing new jewels. She was under the impression that some of the jewels in stock would be available but subsequently, on returning from Dolata
mund, where Sri Shekar Iyer's memo of 26.4.'00
was written, it was found on a close inspection of the jewels in stock that those

on their marriage and hence the purchase of the jewels in question became unavoidable.

In ~~con~~ ~~further~~ reply to the Residency Letter no. 5-286 of 13.10.02 the Hy. Dewan, in his letter no. 15 D. of 16.2.'01 stated that when the decision of the Govt of India was announced in Residency Letter no. 2933/326-93 of 28.8.'93, that special portion of dowries to members of the Maharaja's family on the occasion of their marriages would form a legitimate charge on the civil list, neither Sir K. S— nor the Hy. Dewan considered that all State help

would be withheld on such occasions as such a measure would be opposed to precedents and repulsive to popular sentiments. It had therefore been assumed that a suitable grant would be made for each marriage by the State though this point had unfortunately escaped the notice of the then Resident.

The premature death of the late Maharaja had left all his children, except the Maharaja at a great disadvantage
and it had fallen to the lot of the Highness
the Maharani Regent to celebrate the marriages of all the daughters coming in quick succession without any time to effect adequate savings to meet these heavy charges which had been only lately relieved

The recent state grant of 2 lakhs approved by H.E. the Viceroy. With this grant and other savings and apart from the expenditure incurred on the 3rd Princess' marriage the Civil List which showed a debit balance on 30th June 1898 of ~~Rs~~ Rs 4,42,234-6-10 opened on 1st July 1900 with a debit balance of Rs 17,723.

The existing Palace liabilities in connection with these marriages aggregate Rs 5,81,883 as noted below.

Jewels & sundry small Presents to 3d Princess & her bridegroom ——— Rs 2,06,313

Total . Rs 2,37,010.

Jewels bought for their Highnesses the Maharaja and the young Maharani . . 1,87,234

. Balance yet to be paid for clothes purchased for stock 74,639

Sundry small purchases ——— 2,000

Palace ordinary purchases & repairs ——— 81,000

Total = 81,883.

This sum added to the debit balance of Rs 17,723 on 1st July 1900 brought the total liability to Rs 5,99,606. Of this sum, so much as Rs 3,97,133-1-9 had to be paid to Messrs Parker & Sons on 3rd August 1900 on account of jewelry purchased. This large payment of nearly Rs 4,00,000 during the official year 1900-01 had reduced the annual Civil list grant from 14 to 10 lakhs, which was less than the amount required for ordinary Palace-expenditure, by 2 lakhs.

The Palace Controller's budget for 1900-01 estimated for an expenditure of Rs 11,60,000 against the receipt of 12,00,000 from the Civil List. The average annual expenditure had all along been about Rs 12,00,000; and that it was not possible to reduce further. The savings therefore had not been sufficient to meet all these extra ordinary charges. Deducting the estimated savings of Rs 40,000 from the gross liability of Rs 5,99,606

the net deficit at the close of the year 1900-01 would amount to Rs 5,59,606. To meet this liability partially Her Highness was obliged to obtain from making the separate investment of 2 lakhs for the year 1900-01 out of the 14 lakhs of the Civil List.

Even without this separate investment there would still remain a liability of Rs 3, 59, 606 which it would be impossible to adjust by curtailment of the ordinary expenditure during the remaining short period of minority. In the absence of a special State grant to meet at least a portion of the heavy cost of jewelry the only other source to fall upon is the invested savings of H.H. the late Maharaja, which, it had been already represented was solely intended for the benefit of children.

XVI

In Residency Letter No. 1018 dt 27.2.01 in reply to No 15 D, above quoted enquiry was made as to how the debit balance of £ 2, 42, 234 reducing the state grant of 2 lakhs had been actually defrayed, whether from the current Civil List or from the invested savings. Enquiry was also made regarding the last three items of expenditure mentioned in Letter 75 D. (para 4), as they had not been entered in the statement of expenditure on account of the marriage of H.H. the Maharaja furnished with letter of the ~~30~~ 12th Sept. 1900.

XVII

In reply to the above letter the Hon. Dewan stated in his letter No. 18 D. of 2. 3. '01 that the recoverable advances or overdraft of Rs 4, 42, 234, had been nearly adjusted partly by the State grant of 2 lakhs, and partly from other savings effected during the year 1898-99, & 99-00 in Miscellaneous Receipts and the interest which accrued on the invested savings of H.H. the late Maharaja amounting to Rs 12, 93, 500. This practice, however, of utilizing the interest for Palace purposes on the savings which, subsequent to the death of the late Maharaja and up to 31. 12. '00, amounted to Rs 2, 85, 577 had been ordered to be discontinued from the beginning of the year 1900-01; so that the interest also might be added on to the said investments intended for the benefit of the late Maharaja's 2nd son & 3 daughters; and that the interest amount of ~~2 lakhs~~ 2,85,577 aforementioned might be gradually recouped from savings and added on to investments.

The annual special investment of 2 lakhs had been made for the years 97-98, 98-99, 99-00, as already reported in Sir K. S—'s D.O. of 16.7.00.

As regards the three items of expenditure referred to in the letter under reply, it was stated that though they were incurred about the time, and on the occasion of recent marriages they were not properly debitable to Marriage accounts, but to the Palace Budget. The item of Rs 74,639 represented the balance yet to be paid for Cloths purchased about the time of the marriages but held in stock. The Palace had always necessarily to keep a large stock of cloths for use during festivals and other occasions and for presentation and Khillat purposes. Such cost was included in the year's ordinary purchases and the cloths which were actually borne on stock were shown as expenditure from time to time, and written off the stock as issues were made.

The item of Rs 2,000 represented sundry small purchases made for Palace purposes.

The item of Rs 81,000, was spent for repairs to Palace and several Palace buildings for repair of furniture, purchase of vessels &c. prior to the marriages and therefore debitable to the Palace Budget.

[The expense on account of the 3rd Princess' marriage amounted to only Rs 2,37,010/- and did not include any of the charges specified above.

XVIII

In reply to letters 7 D. & 18 D. of the Hon'ble Dewan above quoted, the orders of the Government of India were communicated communicated in Residency letter No. 3344

& 10.7.'01. The Charges actually reported are —

(a) On the marriage of the 3d daughter Rs 2,37,010

(b) On the marriage ceremonies of the Maha raja — Rs 4,16,378

(c) Cost of jewelry purchased by H.H. the Maharani Regent
for the bride and bridegroom — 1,87,234

(d) Net charge for the Pavilion after transfer of materials to P.W.D — 86,851

(e) Entertainment of distinguished guests — 1,61,047

(f) Miscellaneous Extraordinary Expenditure incurred at the time of the weddings but not properly debitable to that account — 1,57,639

Total — Rs 12,46,159

Deducting the 3 lakhs sanctioned for the expenses of the Maharaja's marriage, and excepting the charges for the Pavilion and for the entertainment of distinguished guests, there remained a sum of Rs 7,15,984 including the previous deficit of Rs 17,723.

It is estimated that a sum of Rs 3,80,000 may be made available from the Civil List before H.H. the Maharaja came of age, the amount being made up as follows:

By foregoing the annual investment for the Maharani Regent for 1900-'01	Rs 2,00,000
From interest on the invested savings of the late Maharaja	1,00,000
By estimated savings in the expenditure of the Palace during 1900-'02	80,000
Total	Rs 3,80,000

There still remained a balance of Rs 3,35,984 which might be regarded as consisting of two items viz: —

(1) Fees expenditure of Rs 1,16,378 on the marriage ceremonies of the Maharaja, and

(2) other extraordinary expenditure amounting to Rs 2,19,606/-.

The former item of expenditure, viz, Rs 1,16,378 may be admitted as a charge against the state revenues; but the latter item should be met from the capital of the late Maharaja's invested savings.

XXI

The State Comptroller, in a Memo. of 4.6.'02

says that the opening Debit-balance on 1.7.'98 was Rs 4, 42,234-6-10

Govt Proceedings

No. 5379 & 11.11.'97 Mis 1057 directed the investment of Rs 2,00,000 every year out of the Civil list of Rs 14,00,000, and that investment began in 1897-'98 but no investment was made as a special case in 1900-01, as ordered in G.O. no 22 D.C. & 3.8.'00 and the whole of the amount was utilized for current requirements of the Palace.

XIX

On the Palace Controller being apprised of this overdraft. he replied that it represented the payments made during 1897-98 on account of the liabilities of the previous years.

The amount of overdraft on 30.6.'99 was Rs 3,33602-11-2

This overdraft on the 30th June 1900 was reduced to Rs 17,723-13-10 for the following reasons:-

(1) Credit was afforded by the D.P.W. in June 1900 by writing off Rs 65,886-15-3, being the amount of expenditure incurred for constructing marriage Pavilion originally debited to Palace.

(2) By the grant from Govt of Rs 2,00,000, on account of the marriage of the 1st & 2nd Princesses.

(3) By some other Miscellaneous Receipts

This overdraft

of Rs 17, 723 - 13 - 10 rose to Rs 4, 08, 423 - 3 - 6 on the 30th June 1901, notwithstanding the fact that no investment was made during 1900-01 on account of the special Fund owing to the last payments made during 1900-01 on account of purchase of clothes and jewels for the Palace.

∴ Govt passed an order in Confidl. Memo. No. 391-2 D.C. dt 21. 2. 1901 directing the investment of Rs 2, 85, 5-77 (being the amount of interest realised on G. of India Pro: Note and Debentures from 1895-96 to end of December 1900, and utilized by the Palace Controller for Palace expenses). as realizations were made out of Palace outstanding loans, and directed further that the interest realised thereafter, i.e. from January 1901, should likewise be invested.

XX

On the Palace Controller intimating that he was unable to pay these later realizations for investments amounting to Rs. 25,229/, the Govt. ordered, in H. No. 915—6, dt. 6.1.02, that overdraft to this extent might also be allowed.

In Order No. 424 dt. 14-3-01, overdraft for Palace current requirements had also been authorized.

The overdraft on all these accounts were estimated at Rs 4,33,084-11-11 on 1st January 1902.

The realisations out of loans, and the amount of interest which if credited to Palace would have reduced the overdraft to Rs 1,01,711-8-2 are as follows:-

(1) The amount of interest realized from January 1902 to May 1902 —— Rs 74,986-9-6

(2) The outstanding loans recovered & credited to Personal Estate account for investment from the 1st January 1902 to April 1902 is —— 56,386-9-11

(3) Amount of Special Investment —— 2,00,000-

The total amount

[illegible]

this was withdrawn from the Palace funds for investment was Rs 3, 31, 373- 3- 9.

The Comptroller's estimate of the approximate overdraft on the 30th April 1902 exclusive of the D.P. charges for that month is Rs 5, 13, 334.

XXII

The Palace Controller states, in his D.O. of 22nd June 1902 that from this debit balance should be deducted

(1) debit balance on 30. 6- 01 one month's marriage expenses... Rs 4, 08, 423

(2) Amt / Lakh on account of the Kitte - catchery charges debitable to Govt

at the close of the year —

Rs 1,00,000

Total Rs 5,08,423

He also states that it is impossible to meet this overdraft from the ordinary Civil List. The expenses cannot be curtailed on account of the various trips and excess in the Special Establishment charges. It would be no wonder if the ordinary expenses at the close of the Official year exceeded the 12 lakhs allowed. More than 1 lakh had to be paid for the Palace share of the Marriage Expenses, and therefore there was no other way of meeting the overdraft than by utilizing the "receipts under Persona Estate" as had been already suggested by him.

FROM

IN MYSORE.

To

The Dewan of Mysore.

Dated Bangalore, 31st May 1899.

SIR,

As you are aware, the Resident in March last referred, for the further consideration of the Government of India, the question of the expenditure incurred on the marriages of two of the three daughters of the late Maharajah of Mysore. In doing so, Colonel Robertson represented to the Government of India that, though the amounts spent on these two marriages were undoubtedly larger than was absolutely necessary, the excess was largely due to the absence at that time of a proper system of controlling and auditing the palace expenditure. This defect has, the Resident pointed out, been remedied since Mr. Biddulph's examination of the accounts, which was followed by an entire change in the system of palace expenditure. In view of the fact that the excess expenditure nditure on these marriages was incurred under circum-ces which were to some extent beyond the control of Her ness the Maharani Regent, and that she is warmly opposed the proposal to draw for this purpose upon the investment f 13 lakhs left by the late Maharajah, the Resident expressed a hope that the Government of India would be pleased to decide not to press, on the present occasion, the enforcement of the principle formerly enunciated by them that marriage grants to members of the ruling family of Mysore form a legitimate charge against the Civil List.

2. The orders of the Government of India have now been received on the representation made by the Resident and I am to communicate them for your information. The Government of India are not prepared to surrender in reference to the present and to all similar cases the principle to which reference is made in the last paragraph, and which they assert is of unquestionably sound application. At the same time, looking to the arrangement of the present Civil List, to the fact that the accounts are well kept and that the palace expenditure constitutes no charge upon the State revenues, the Government of India will meet the wishes of Her Highness the Maharani Regent to the extent of relieving Her Highness of one half of what is no doubt a distasteful obligation. Two lakhs of rupees may be paid by the State the remaining two lakhs being defrayed from the invested savings of the late Maharjah.

3. In announcing this decision of the Government of India, I am to state that the present concession is made as a special compliment to Her Highness the Maharani and in recognition of the sound financial arrangements to which allusion has been made above. It should not, however, be regarded as a precedent; moreover the Government of India wish it to be understood that it is made on the condition that the outlay upon the forthcoming marriage of Her Highness' third daughter shall not exceed the stipulated sum of three lakhs, and shall be defrayed without any call upon the State revenues.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

Hobbs

First Assistant Resident.

Rec'd 13/10/00 5-30 P.M.

IN MYSORE.

To

The Officiating Dewan of Mysore.

Dated Bangalore, 13th October 1900.

SIR,

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letters of the 30th ultimo regarding the expenditure on the marriages of His Highness the Maharajah of Mysore and of the third daughter of Her Highness the Maharani Regent, C.I.

As the question raised will form the subject of a report to the Government of India, it seems convenient that the correspondence should now assume an official -- shape.

2. I propose as regards the expenditure on the two recent marriages to separate the outlay on each event deal -ing in the present letter only with the Marriage of His Highness the Maharajah. The marriage of the third daughter is not strictly speaking a matter with which State Funds have any direct concern; for the Government of India definitely decided in their letter No.2807 I dated 11th

August

August 1893, the purport of which was conveyed to the Durbar by Mr.Cobb's letter No.2933/326-93 dated 28th August 1893, and was on a recent occasion reiterated (see my letter No.216 dated 31st May 1900) that grants of special portions or Dowries to members of the Family (which would naturally comprise all the expenditure in connection with the marriage) should form a charge against the Civil list. Colonel Robertson is aware that in paragraph 8 of his memorandum of the 6th March 1895 Sir Sheshadri Iyer assumed that a grant would be made by the State on the occasion of each marriage; but this assumption was at the time left unnoticed by the Resident, and the Government of India, as they have recently explained, did not think it necessary to point out that the Dewan had misinterpreted their orders on this point. In view of the foregoing considerations it appears unnecessary to consider further the remarks contained in your letter of the 30th ultimo with its accompanying memorandum dated 30th August 1900 connected with the question of expenditure on the third daughter's marriage as this will form a debit against the Civil list.

3. With Sir Sheshadri Iyer's letter of the 26th April he forwarded a memorandum giving a programme of the celebration and attendant functions and a forecast of the expenditure upon His Highness the Maharajah's approaching marriage. Paragraph 8 of this memorandum is so important that I repeat it here in extenso.

"The State has sanctioned the very moderate sum of three lakhs

5. You now report that, notwithstanding very economical intentions at starting, expenditure on the marriage, excluding the cost of the Pavilion and that of entertaing distinguished guests, has amounted to Rs.4,16,378/- or 1,16,378/- in excess of the estimate. The Resident is prepared to admit that it would have been difficult to fix definitely beforehand and adhere strictly to budgetted expenditure on such headings as Charity, Lavazima, Khillats and so forth; but it is disappointing to find that, when Sir Shoshadri Iyer was himself present at Mysore superintending the marriage celebration and festivities, such a large and, as compared with that incurred on the late Maharajah's marriage in 1878, an extravagant expenditure should have been allowed.

6. You also report that the outlay on the Pavilion was Rs.2,15,713/- of which however only Rs.86,851/- will be debitable to the marriage, the remaining Rs.1,28,862/- being transferred to the Public Works Department for disposal or adjustment under the head of stock.

The expenditure incurred in entertaining distinguished guests is stated to have been Rs.1,61,047/-. Colonel Bertson agrees with you that this expenditure is not moderate.

Some news-papers indulge in idle rumours that the " approaching marriage is going to be celebrated with un- "precedented splendour and magnificence regardless of cost "There is no foundation for such rumours. While the Dur- "bar are anxious to celebrate the great event with becoming "ceremony and appropriate rejoicings, they are studying the " strictest possible economy in every detail, and are "taking proper precautions to avoid all unnecessary ex- "penditure".

Paragraph 9 stated that "Her Highness the Maharani "considers that no purchase of new jewellery for them (His "Highness and his Bride) is required for this occasion".

In paragraphs 10 and 11 the necessity for incurring expenditure, which could not be accurately estimated, on the Marriage Pavilion and the "Reception and entertainment of distinguished guests" was discussed.

4. On receipt of the Dewan's letter and memorandum the Resident addressed the Government of India; and in accordance with his recommendations they sanctioned an expenditure of three lakhs upon the marriage, and also agreed, as Colonel Robertson informed Sir Sheshadri Iyer in his letter of the 7th May, that the cost of the Pavilion might be debited to a separate account, a list of the articles employed in

8. The expenditure of Rs.1,87,234/- on account of purchase of jewellery for the Bride and Bridegroom need not be considered here. The necessity for this outlay in the face of the decision announced in paragraph 9 of Sir Sheshadri Iyer's Memorandum dated 26th April 1900 seems to be insufficiently explained in paragraph 2 of your letter; but as it is apparently intended that this sum shall be defrayed fromthe Civil list, it does not form part of the State outlay upon the Maharajah's wedding.

9. In conclusion, I am to enquire whether the accounts have with reference to the remarks in Sir Sheshadri Iyer's Note of September 1900 been regularly audited and if so whether for the purposes of a report to the Government of India the figures as summarized in the present letter may be accepted as correct.

FROM

IN MYSORE.

To

The Officiating Dewan of Mysore.

Dated Bangalore, 13 October 1900.

SIR,

I have by direction of the Resident addressed to you to-day a letter in reply to yours of the 30th ultimo on the subject of the expenditure on the marriage of His Highness the Maharajah and have explained that as regards the marriage of the third daughter of Her Highness the Maharani-Regent, C.I., no question of assistance from the State can arise, seeing that the expenditure in such a case is debitable entirely to the Civil list.

2. It is true that, on the occasion of the marriages of Her Highness' first and second daughters, when an excess expenditure of about four lakhs was incurred, the Resident was enabled with some difficulty to induce the Government of India to agree that a portion of this excess be debited to State Funds; but the reasons given in support of this application were of an exceptional nature and cannot be held applicable to the present case.

The

The expenditure of Rs.206313/- which you report has been incurred for presents to the Bride and Bride-groom must therefore be debited to the Civil list. In the present instance, no reference to the Government of India appears to be required, seeing that the proscribed limit of three lakhs has not been exceeded on this marriage.

3. I am directed to point out with reference to paragraph 6 of your note that the arrangement approved by the Government of India in their letter No.4530 I.A. dated 20th December 1897 whereby two lakhs are invested yearly out of the 14 allowed for the Civil list, was in effect a compromise intended to obviate a reduction of the allowance which was at one time contemplated, for the reason that there could not during the minority be the same necessity for expenditure on a scale which might have been justifiable when the late Maharajah was alive and ruling his State. It is not, the Resident understands, open to Her Highness to vary this arrangement without previous reference to the Government of India.

4. I am to suggest, with reference to the statement given in paragraph 4 of your letter of the 30th September (accompanying the confidential note), which Colonel Robertson finds it difficult to follow, that it would probably help Her Highness, as enabling her to estimate her financial position, if you could arrange to prepare with the Palace Comptroller a statement of the existing Palace liabilities in connection with these marriages. Apparently the expenditure on the marriage of Her Highness' third daughter, according to paragraph 6 of one of your letters of the 30th September, amounted to Rs.30,697/- to which must now be added Rs.2,06,313/- for jewels, or a total of Rs.2,37,010/-, which is, as has been remarked, well within the three lakhs limit. There is, however, the sum of Rs.1,87,234/- on account of jewels bought for the Maharajah to be entered; and it seems quite possible that, with these heavy charges, some urgent necessity may exist for the retrenchments in the Civil list which you have yourself, in conversation with the Resident, admitted to be desirable.

5. Colonel Robertson will be obliged if you will be good enough to discuss this matter with the Maharani and to favour him with Her Highness' views.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

First Assistant Resident.

Dated, Bangalore 16th February 1901.

The Off: Dewan of Mysore

To

The Hon'ble the Resident
in Mysore

Sir,

In reply to your office letter No. 5286 dated 13th October 1900, regarding the existing Palace liabilities in connection with the recent marriages and the retrenchments in the Civil List, and with reference to the observations contained in para 2 of your office letter No. 5265 of the same date, I beg to submit as follows.

2. When the decision of the Government of India was announced in Mr. Cobbe's letter № 2933 / 326-93 dated 28th August 1893, that "Special portions or dowries"

to members of the Maharaja's family on the occasion of their marriages would form "a legitimate charge on the Maharaja's Civil List", neither Sir Sheshadri Iyer, nor I, who was offg Dewan about the time, considered that all State help would be withheld on such occasions for ordinary expenditure of marriage, as such a measure would be opposed to precedents and repulsive to popular sentiments.
It was on such an understanding that Sir Sheshadri Iyer, to whom I had also occasion to write on the subject, again referred to it, and assumed in para 8 of his Memo, dated 6th March 1895, that a suitable grant would be made for each marriage, by the State. This point, however, had unfortunately escaped the notice of the then Resident, and with much deference, I venture to submit that the orders of the Govt of India do not appear to have been mentioned in the Memo. AR

3. The premature death of the late Maharaja has left all his children (except the Maharaja) at a great dis-advantage, and it has fallen to the lot of Her Highness the Maharani Regent to celebrate the marriages of all the daughters coming in quick succession without any time to effect adequate savings to meet their heavy charges which have been partly relieved by the recent State grant of 2 lacs approved by His Excellency the Viceroy, to whom Her Highness feels so grateful. With this grant and other savings, and apart from the expenditure incurred on the 3rd Princes' marriage, the Civil list which, as reported in para 3 of Sir Sheshadri Iyer's Memo dated 21st October 1899, showed a debit balance, on 30th June 1898, of Rs 4,42,234-6-4 opened on 1st July 1900 with a debit balance of Rs 17,723.

4. I have ascertained from the Palace Controller that the existing Palace liabilities, in connection with these marriages, aggregate Rs 5,81,883 as noted

3/2

	Rs.
I.	2,06,313	Jewels and Sundry small presents to 3d. Princess and her Bridegroom.
*	30,697	Expenditure on the marriage of the 3d. Princess
	2,37,010	This as has been observed by you comes well within the 3 lac limit.
II	1,87,234.	Jewels bought for their Highnesses the Maharaja and the young Maharani
III	74,639.	Balance yet to be paid for cloths purchased for Stock
IV	2,000	Sundry Small purchases.
V	81,000	Palace ordinary purchases and repairs.
	5,81,883.

in the margin, which, added to the debit balance of Rs 17,723 referred to above, brings the total liability to Rs 5,99,606. Of this sum so much as Rs 3,97,133-1-9 had to be paid to Messrs

Hawker & Sons, on 3 Augt 1900, on account of Jewelry purchased. This large payment of nearly 4 lacs during the current official year has reduced the annual Civil List fund from 14 to 10 lacs which is less than the amount required for ordinary Palace expenditure by two lacs.

5. The Palace Controller's Budget for 1900-1901 estimates for an expenditure of Rs 11,60,000, against the receipt of 12 lacs from the Civil List. Both the Palace Controller and Col Campbell assure me that it is not possible to reduce it still further. The average annual expenditure has all along been about 12 lacs, ~~and since the demise~~ of the late Maharaja, Her Highness the Maharani Regent has spared no pains to minimize the expenditure, notwithstanding the numerous calls that have devolved upon ~~the family~~. The savings, therefore, have not been sufficient to meet all these extraordinary charges. ~~deducting~~ Deducting the current year's estimated savings of Rs 40,000, from the gross liability of Rs 5,99,606, the net deficit, at the close of the year 1900-1901, will amount to Rs 5,59,606. To meet this liability partially Her Highness was obliged to abstain from making ~~the~~ the separate investment of two lacs for the current year out of the 14 lacs of the Civil List.

6. Even without this separate investment, there will still remain a liability of Rs 3,59,606 which it will be impossible to adjust by curtailment of the ordinary expenditure during the remaining short period of Minority. In the absence of a special State grant to meet at least a portion of the heavy cost of jewelry, the only other source to fall upon is the invested savings of His Highness the late Maharaja which, as has been already represented to you, was solely intended for the benefit of his children. Her Highness therefore has naturally very

From Gen. Fin 17 & 99, 817.

The First Assistant to the Resident

in Mysore.

To

The Officiating Dewan of Mysore.

Dated, Bangalore, 27th February 1901

Sir,

I am directed to reply to your letter No. 15/D dated the 16th February 1901 regarding the liabilities of the Civil List of Her Highness the Maharani-Regent in connection with the recent marriages, and especially in connection with the marriage of the third daughter of Her Highness.

2. In Sir Sheshadri Iyer's Memorandum dated the 21st October 1899 it was stated that a recoverable advance of Rs. 4,42,234 was outstanding against the Civil List on account of the marriages of the two elder daughters of Her Highness and the Upanayanam of His Highness the Maharajah. Towards the liquidation of this advance the Durbar was informed in my letter No. 2616 dated the 31st May 1900 that the Government of India were willing that, as a special case, two lakhs might be paid by the State, the balance being defrayed from the invested savings of the late Maharajah. The balance to be so defrayed amounted to Rs. 2,42,234. It is not clearly stated in your letter whether this balance has been actually defrayed from the current Civil List or from the invested savings. But the Resident gathers from the language of your letter, and from the calculations contained in your demi-official letter of the 30th September 1900, that Her Highness has not trenched upon the invested savings, but has liquidated the whole balance from the Civil List for the financial year which ended on the 30th June 1900. If this inference is not correct, I am to ask that you will definitely inform the Resident of the fact. The following remarks are based on the assumption that the whole balance of Rs.2,42,234 has been met from the Civil List and not from the invested savings.

3. In paragraph 3 of your letter you state that, with the grant of two lakhs from the State and other savings, and apart from the expenditure incurred on the marriage of the third daughter of Her Highness, the Civil List opened on the 1st July 1900 (the beginning of the Mysore Financial year) with a debit balance of Rs.17,723 only. It is understood from this account that the Civil List had, during the financial year which ended on the 30th June 1900, been charged with a payment of Rs.2,24,511 on account of the marriages of Her Highness' two elder daughters and the Upanayanam of His Highness. Sir Sheshadri Iyer stated in his demi-official letter of the 16th July 1900 that the annual investment of two lacs already agreed upon had been made for the financial year 1899-1900. It thus appears that the Civil List had during the year which ended on the 30th June 1900 borne a charge of Rs.4,24,511 in addition to the ordinary expenses of the Palace; so that for that year the ordinary Palace expenses must apparently have been reduced to Rs.9,75,489. The fact that this reduction was apparently found possible does not seem to Colonel Robertson to agree with the statement made in paragraph 5 of your letter that "the average annual expenditure has all along been about 12 lakhs" and that it "is not possible to reduce it still further". The Resident would be glad to be favoured with an explanation on this point; and he desires to be informed especially (1) For what financial years precisely the investment of two lakhs has been actually made (2) What is precisely the balance at present to the credit of the Investment Fund, and (3) From what source- whether from the invested savings, or by means of a stoppage of the annual investment of two lakhs, or from the provision of twelve lakhs, otherwise available in the Civil List- the balance of Rs.2,24,511 was actually defrayed.

* The difference between Rs.2,42,234 and Rs.17,723.

4. I am now to turn to the items of expenditure which are set forth in paragraph 4 of your letter. You state that these

these are all existing Palace liabilities in connection with the marriages of Her Highness' family. Items I and II --- (Rs.2,37,010 for jewels and other expenses in connection with the third daughter's marriage, and Rs.1,87,234 for jewels bought for the Maharajah and the young Maharani) have been mentioned by you in previous correspondence; but items III, IV and V have not previously been mentioned. The Resident assumes that all three of these items of expenditure amounting to Rs.1,57,639 were in connection with the marriage of the third daughter of Her Highness. For they were not entered in the statement of expenditure on account of the marriage of His Highness the Maharajah, which was furnished by you with your letter of the 30th September 1900; and they can evidently not have been connected with the marriage of Her Highness' two eldest daughters, the accounts of which have long ago been settled. If this is the case, the total expenditure on the marriage of the third daughter of Her Highness amounted to Rs.3,94,619. I am to ask whether the Resident is correct in making this assumption. I am at the same time to point out that the entry against item V (Rs.81,000) of the words "Palace ordinary purchases and repairs" appears to be misleading. For if the expenditure was on ordinary purchases and repairs, it cannot have been in connection with any of the marriages; whereas you have specifically stated in the first sentence of paragraph 5 of your letter that the figures set down by you in the margin are liabilities in connection with the marriages

5. The Government of India are pressing for a settlement of this long delayed case; and Colonel Robertson desires that he may be favoured with a very early reply to this letter

To,

The Honble the Resident in Mysore.

Sir,

In reply to your Office letter No. 1018, dated 27th ~~instant~~ last, regarding the expenditure in connection with the recent marriages in the Palace, I beg to state that the recoverable advances or overdraft of Rs 4,42,234 referred to in Sir Seshadri Iyer's memo, dated 21st October 1899, has been nearly adjusted, partly by the recent State grant of two lakhs and partly from other savings effected during two years 98-99 and 99-1900 in Miscellaneous Receipts and the interest which accrued on the invested* savings of H. H. the late Maharaja. The said invested fund which, on the death of H. H. the late Maharaja amounted to Rs 12,93,500* as shewn in the margin, remains in tact and has not been trenched upon, but only the interest which accrued thereon was credited to Palace Funds.

*Govt. of India Rs Notes - 9,99,000
Mysore Rly Debentures - 2,94,500 12,93,500

2. It was brought to my notice, only quite recently when I was going into the Palace Accounts minutely, that the interest on the above invested savings which, subsequent to the death of H. H. the late Maharaja and up to 31st December last — amounted to Rs 2,85,577 was being utilized for Palace purposes. This practice has been ordered to be discontinued from the current year, so that the interest also may be added on to the said investments intended for the benefit of H. H. the late Maharaja's 2nd Son and 3 daughters, and that the interest amount aforementioned may be gradually recoup-

-ed from savings and added on to Investments

3. The annual spe-cial investment of two lakhs has been made for the past three official years, 1897-98, 1898-99, 1899-1900, as already reported in Sir K. Sheshadri Iyer's D.O. dated 16th July 1900.

4. As regards the items of expenditure, III, IV and V referred to in para 4 of the letter un-der acknowledgment, I beg to state that, though they were incurred about the time and on the oc-casion of recent marri-ages, they are not properly

debitable to marriage accounts but to the Palace Budget, for reasons stated below:-

Item III, Rs 74,639, represents the balance yet to be paid for cloths purchased about the time of marriages and now held in stock. Palace has always necessarily to keep a large stock of cloths, &c, for use during festivals and other occasions and for presentation and Khillat purposes. Such cost is included in the year's ordinary purchases and the cloths which are actually borne on stock, are shewn as expenditure from time to time and written off the stock as issues are made.

Item IV - Rs 2,000/-

Sundry small purchases made for Palace purposes.

Item V - Rs. 81,000

was spent for repairs to Palace and several Palace buildings, for repair and purchase of howdahs and Palace Insignias, for purchase of, and repairs to, certain furniture, &c, and for purchase of Vessels and utensils. These were all charges incurred for replenishing and renovating the Palace and several Palace buildings, &c, prior to the marriages and, therefore, debitable to the Palace Budget.

5. The expense on account of the Third Princess' marriage amounted to only Rs 2,37,010, as has been already reported, and does not include any of the charges specified in the preceding paragraph.

6. I enclose a statement of the Comptroller to Mysore Government, shewing how the debit

42 balance on 30th June 1900,

of Rs 17,723 was arrived at.

7 & I also forward an extract from the Budget of Receipts and Expenditure of the Palace Budget for

Palace Controller, shew-

Palace Expenditure a-

CONFIDENTIAL.

FROM

C. L. S. RUSSELL Esq., I. C. S.
FIRST ASSISTANT TO THE RESIDENT IN MYSORE.

To

The Dewan of Mysore.

Dated Bangalore, 10th July 1901.

SIR,

I am directed to refer to Mr.Thumboo Chetty's letters noted on the margin, regarding charges incurred in connection with marriages in the ruling family of the Mysore State, and to communicate the orders of the Government of India on the subject.

No.7 D. dated 14th October 1900
" 18 D. " 2nd March 1901.

2. In Sir Sheshadri Iyer's memorandum dated the 21st October 1899, it was stated that the expenditure on the marriages of two of the three daughters of the late Maharaja and on the young Maharaja's investiture with the sacred thread had amounted to Rs.10,69,000, of which a sum of Rs.6,26,766 had been provided from the Civil List. Mr. Crawford supported a proposal of the Dewan that a special grant of 4 lakhs should be made from the revenues of the State to the Civil List in order to meet the deficit, and the Government of India eventually

to

+ Letter No.2616 dated 31st May 1900 to the Dewan of Mysore.

+ agreed to a grant of 2 lakhs and to the other two lakhs being met from the invested savings of the late Maharaja, which then amounted to nearly 13 lakhs.

3. In the second of Mr.Thumboo Chetty's letters under reference that, by retrenchments in the Civil List, and by utilizing the interests on the invested savings, the debt had been reduced to Rs.17,723/- by the end of 1899-1900, without drawing on the capital of the invested savings.

4. In connection with the weddings of the third daughter and of His Highness the Maharaja himself, the Government of India agreed-

(1) to a maximum expenditure of 3 lakhs for the marriage of the daughter, to be defrayed without any call upon State revenues;

(2) to a maximum expenditure of 3 lakhs for the marriage of the Maharaja, to be incurred from State revenues;

(3) to the net charge for the pavilion for the Maharja's marriage being separately debited to the State;

(4) to reasonable extra expenditure on the entertainment of any Chiefs who accepted invitations to the wedding.

The charges actually reported are:-

		Rs.
(a) On the marriage of the third daughter. ...	...	2,37,010
(b) On the marriage ceremonies of the Maahraja.	...	4,16,378
(c) Cost of jewellery purchased by H.H.the Maharani-Regent for the bride and bridegroom.	...	1,87,234
(d) Net charge for the pavilion (after transfer of materials to Public Works Department.)	..	86,851
Carried over.		9,27,473

Brought forward.		9,27,473
(e) Entertainment of distinguished guests.	... ...	1,61,047
(f) Miscellaneous extraordinary expenditure incurred at the time of the weddings, but not properly debitable to that account.	...	1,57,639.
		12,46,159.

Deducting the 3 lakhs sanctioned for the expenses of the Maha-raja's marriage, and accepting the charges for the pavilion and for the entertainment of distinguished guests, there remains a sum of Rs.7,15,984/- including the previous deficit of Rs.17,723/- the whole of which should, strictly speaking, be met from the Civil List.

5. It is estimated that a sum Rs.3,80,000/- may be made available from the Civil List, before His Highness the Maharaja comes of age next year, the amount being made up as follows:-

		Rs.
By foregoing the annual investment for the Maharani Regent for 1900-1901.	...	2,00,000
From interest on the invested savings of the late Maharaja.	...	1,00,000
By estimated savings in the expenditure of the Palace during 1900-1902.	...	80,000.
		3,80,000.

The proposal to forego the investment of two lakhs is one which was made by Her Highness the Maharani Regent herself. There will still remain a balance of Rs.3,35,984/- which may be regarded as consisting of two items, namely, (1) excess expenditure of Rs.1,16,378/- on the marriage ceremonies of the the Maharaja, and (2) other extraordinary expenditure amounting to Rs.2,19,606/-. The Government of India have sanctioned Colonel Robertson's proposals that the former item of expenditure, viz. Rs.1,16,378/- shall be admitted as a charge against the State revenues, and that the latter item shall be met from the capital of the late Maharaja's invested savings. At the same time the Government of India have expressed regret that such heavy expenditure was incurred; and I am to call the attention of the Darbar to the extravagant, and, in the opinion of the Government of India, quite indefensible, expenditure on jewels, which was, moreover, in direct violation of the assurance conveyed on behalf of Her Highness the Maharani Regent by the late Dewan on the 26th April 1900.

X Vide paragraph 9 of Sir K. Sheshadri Iyer's Memorandum dated 26th April 1900.

I have the honor to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

First Assistant Resident.

~ A portion of this expenditure amounting to ~

The Government however are now in a position to pass orders in final adjustment of the full expenditure incurred on account of the marriages and accordingly direct that the following items should be charged to the General revenues —

(a) Marriage ceremonies of H. H. The Maharaja, including the original Grant of three Lakhs and the excess expenditure of Rs 1,16,378 — Rs 4,16,378.

(b) Net charges on account of the Marriage Pavilion Rs 86,851

(c) Entertainment of distinguished Guests — Rs 1,61,047

Total Rs 664,276.

Deducting this amount of Rs 6,64,276 as well as the Value of stock in the Marriage pavilion, viz Rs 1,09,203 which should be transferred to the ~~P.W.D.~~ Public Works Department, there still remains a balance of Rs 1,27,997 on account of Marriage charges. This last amount together with Rs 4,32,000, the estimated amount of overdrafts on the State Treasury necessitated by the heavy expenditure incurred on the 18th July 1922 by the Palace on account of these Marriages Comes on the State Treasury Comes to Rs 5,59,997. If after these adjustments are made, the balance in the Civil List Grant of the current year is not sufficient towards the close of the year for the ordinary expenses of the Palace, the Comptroller is requested to submit a timely report and obtain the orders of Govt as to allowing fresh overdraft for the future.

The Comptroller's attention is drawn to the irregular manner in which he has allowed overpayments to be made from the State Treasury without the previous sanction of Govt. It is noted that Govt order No 424 OC dated 16th March 1901 authorized the Comptroller to allow overdrafts for only the necessary three months of April, May and June but it is observed that he has allowed the same till now without formally obtaining the previous sanction of Govt for so doing. In the future whenever such necessity arises the Comptroller is requested to invariably obtain the previous sanction of Govt.

It is noted that the overdrafts permitted by the Comptroller are subject to adjustment presumably in the beginning of the next official year. This adjustment was not only not effected, but further overdraft was also allowed without due authority from Govt. It is hoped that hereafter whenever

If after these adjustments are made, the balance in the Civil List grant of the current year is not sufficient towards the close of the year for the ordinary expenses of the Palace, the Comptroller is requested to submit a timely report and obtain the orders of Government as to allowing fresh overdraft for the future.

It is noted that Government Order No. 424, D. C. dated 14th March 1901, authorized the Comptroller to allow overdrafts for only the succeeding three months of April, May and June, subject to adjustment presumably in the beginning of the next official year. This adjustment was not only not effected, but further overdraft was also allowed without due authority from Government. In the future whenever such necessity arises the Comptroller is requested to invariably obtain the previous sanction of Government.
